

CORN, PEACHES MORE PLENTIFUL ON MART TODAY

Egg prices mostly advanced; corn and peaches were more plentiful, while other commodities, both in prices and quantity, remained about the same at the Farmers Market today.

Only a few sour cherries were on sale, with farmers stating that the ones offered this morning at 30 cents a quart box, a nickel increase over last week, were the last of the season.

Lima beans, making a first appearance according to the farmers, were selling at 35 cents a pint box. New apples, now in their second week on the market, were much more plentiful today, with the price remaining the same for the Transparents and Rambos, generally 15 cents a quart box, 25 a quarter box and 45 a half peck. With some higher, up to 35 a quarter and 65 a half peck.

Blackberries 45 Cents

Peaches were selling well at varying prices depending on size and quality. Most Red Free and other early varieties were 25 to 30 cents a quart box.

Red raspberries were 30 cents a quart box, an increase of five cents; blackberries were 45 cents a quart box, and raspberries were 25 cents a pint box.

New potatoes varied from 25 to 30 a quarter peck and 45 to 50 cents a half peck. Eggs for the most part were 70 cents a dozen; some were available at 65 cents.

Dressed chickens—fryers—continued at 60 cents a pound. Cucumbers varied in price according to size from a penny apiece to two for five cents.

Other Prices Held

Beets were ten cents a bunch; radishes, ten cents a bunch; parsley, five cents a bunch.

Butter sold for 55 to 75 cents a pound. Some apple butter was available at 50 cents a 26-ounce jar and butter-milk in the same size container was ten cents.

Whipping cream was 40 cents a pint; potato salad, 25 cents a pint; cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint; bread, 10 cents a loaf; rolls, 20 cents a dozen; cookies, 30 and 35 cents a dozen; sticky buns, 35 cents a dozen; pies 50 and 60 cents apiece and cakes from $1 to $1.50.

Several varieties of flowers were on sale at prices from 25 to 30 cents a bunch up to gladioli selling for 75 cents a dozen.

Eight Crash In Homemade Armored Car

MUNICH, Germany July 25 (AP)—A homemade armored car, so cleverly built that it fooled Czech border guards, crashed through the Iron Curtain today, bringing eight people to safety in the West.

Bavarian border police said a 31-year-old Czech mechanic, his wife and their two small children, two Czech soldiers and civilian man and woman roared across to freedom near Waid-Muenchen in Southern Bavaria. They asked asylum.

They first reported the vehicle to be a tank, but said later it was a beautifully-built armored car with tank treads, so well done that they had assumed it was a Czech Army tank.

Covered With Foliage

It was decked with foliage as camouflage and as it rammed through the barbed wire barrier near Waid-Muenchen, a Czech Army patrol, heavily armed, watched it open-mouthed. They apparently believed it a Czech armored reconnaissance car and held their fire.

A German border official declined to give the names of any of the occupants. They were taken to Cham, near Waid-Muenchen, and turned over to U. S. Army Intelligence officials. In such cases refugees are not permitted to talk with outsiders until interrogation is completed.

But a border policeman who talked with the group shortly after the eight escaped from their Communist-dominated homeland, said the young mechanic, a native of Pilsen, told this story:

Reds Steal Ship

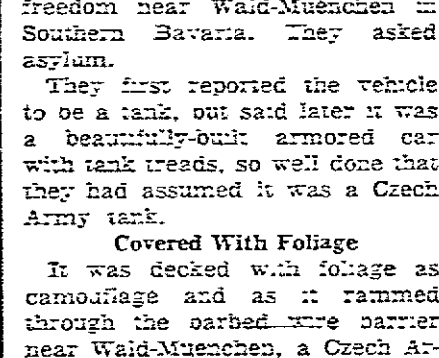

Two years ago he decided to flee, a conviction which solidified when his machine shop was confiscated and he was forced to operate it for the Communist state.

Painfully, week after week and month after month, he collected pieces of scrap iron and steel. Secretly and at night, he slowly built the armored car which was

Times Installs New Engraving Machine, Photographic Equipment To Expand Service To Subscribers, Patrons

Today The Gettysburg Times inaugurates another new service to the community, with the installation of a Scan-A-Graver, an engraving machine which makes engravings within a few minutes.

Previously all photographs had to be sent to engravers out of the borough before the pictures could be reproduced in The Times.

The Scan-A-Graver not only provides an additional news service, but an outstanding service for advertisers and those in need of job printing.

Prior to the installation of the machine, eight advertisers had already purchased space based on use of engravings made by the new engraver, the advertising department reported.

Immediate Reproduction

The new equipment permits the immediate reproduction of not only photographs, but of line drawings, signatures and other types of material for use in news stories, advertisements and job printing.

In the process, a photograph, drawing or other subject is placed on a cylinder under an "electro eye." As the cylinder revolves, the tiny light of the "eye" picks up gradations of color in the photograph. These are translated into electric impulses which activate an electric cutter operating on a plastic plate on another cylinder on the machine.

The cutter punches tiny holes in the plastic, producing 85 tiny dots in each square inch. The dots are larger or smaller, deeper or shallower, depending upon the lightness or darkness of the particular portion of the picture which it is reproducing. When the picture is completed it is completely reproduced by the tiny "dots" on the plastic.

Additional Service

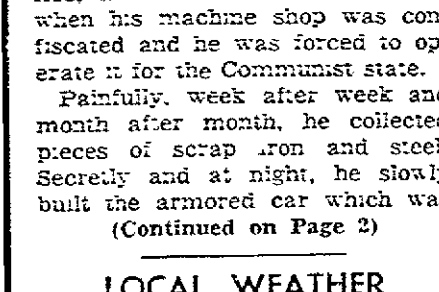

The plastic "cut" is then placed on the page castings on the press to be reproduced in the editions of The Gettysburg Times. Or they can be mounted for use in job printing, or advertising.

Pictures In One Minute

Together with the installation of the new engraving machine, The Gettysburg Times has also increased its photographic equipment to provide more service for news, advertising and job printing purposes. This is in addition to the regular photographic service it receives from the Lane Studio.

With the new photographic equipment a picture can be taken of any subject, a print made and an engraving reproduced within seven minutes.

This speed on picture service is made possible by the addition of a polaroid attachment to the camera that has been in use in The Gettysburg Times news room for a number of years. The polaroid equipment produces a finished print one minute after the shutter is snapped and the finished picture can be put on the Scan-A-Graver immediately.

ADAMS COUNTY FAIR TO BE HELD AUGUST 11 TO 15

The sixth annual Adams County Fair will be held August 11-15 on the Adams County Fairgrounds between Abbottstown and East Berlin on Route 194, President Stewart V. Walker, New Oxford, expects this year's attendance and display to be superior to past years.

The 1953 fair will feature a large display of farm machinery, home-cooked meals, which will be served in the main dining room of the fairgrounds, and entertainment of all kinds including rides.

Exhibits are welcome in all departments and entry blanks may be secured from the following department managers: Poultry, Melvin E. Zeilman, Lincoln Way West, New Oxford; cattle and hogs, Kenneth Walker, New Oxford.

Poultry Department

Entry fees of 50 cents per bird will be charged in the poultry department and of $1 per animal in the cattle and hog departments. Entry blanks and fees must be in the hands of the department managers no later than August 1. Both cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded winning entries.

No entry fees will be charged in the Horticulture and Home Economics Departments, but all exhibits must be placed in the department before 7 p.m. Tuesday evening, August 11, and all entries must be purchased an exhibitor's ticket for $1 which will permit daily entry to the fair.

There will be special livestock classes for FFA and 4-H Clubs, as well as school projects which will be judged by themselves and not in competition with other projects. There will be no fees for these entries.

Judging August 12

Judging will begin Wednesday morning, August 12, at 9 o'clock. Feature attractions will include a tractor driving contest on Friday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. under the direction of John Krazart, and special entertainment Saturday afternoon with Eddie's rides reduced to 9 cents between 2 and 5 p.m.

Laurin Sheely, entertainment chairman, has released the following entertainment schedule:

Tuesday, August 11, from the WVA Wheeling Jamboree Shows, Whina Lee, billed as America's No. 1 girl singer, and Stoney Cooper, the ace of time fiddler, along with the Country Harmony Boys including Money Blake, Gene Jenkins, Bill Carter, Bill Chamberlain and Blondie.

Wednesday, August 12, Johnson and Johnson will present comedy, music and ventriloquism. Ray Lidey and Co. will do comedy juggling and securing their uncyclery, and the Three Engfords will perform their famous upside-down routines.

Reapportionment Bill Ready For Governor's Desk; Expect Session To Reach Adjournment Monday

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill reapportioning the membership of the House of Representatives for the first time since 1921 headed for Gov. John S. Pene's desk today for certain approval.

The legislature completed action on the plan last night, removing the last major obstacle for a Monday adjournment of the 1953 legislature.

The House accepted a joint House-Senate conference report on reapportionment by a 186-40 vote. The Senate followed through by adopting the report unanimously.

First In 32 Years

It was a personal triumph for Chairman Leroy A. Weidner (R-Berks) of the House Reapportionment Committee, who carried the bill for redistricting of the House membership, the first such in 32 years.

The Senate, in contrast, allowed a reapportionment plan for its own 50 members die in committee. The House plan increases the membership from 208 to 210 and boosts the representation in nine counties and reduces it in eight counties.

Democrats Join

Democrats, who originally opposed the proposal, joined in agreement after concessions were made in Democratic areas in Western Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile, the Senate Rules Committee killed a House-passed plan to increase maximum weekly workers' compensation benefits from $30 to $32.50.

The action was ironic since it was this legislation that was largely responsible for changing the final adjournment date of the 1953 legislature from today until Monday.

Final Vote Monday

The Senate will, however, approved labor-backed companion measures to raise workers' compensation and occupational disease benefits from a maximum of $30 a week to $32.50. These increases will be in a position for a final vote Monday.

The House readied a vote on a Senate-passed measure to increase the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority from 235 million dollars to 330 millions.

The borrow-and-build agency, revived in 1949 in a move to bypass the commonwealth's million dollar debt limit, would use the additional 95 millions primarily for welfare department projects.

Appropriations Struggle

The lawmakers continued to struggle with the massive task of bringing the 932 million dollar general appropriation bill into shape.

Already passed by the House, it is in the hands of the Senate where (Continued on Page 2)

State Purchases County Property

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania this morning purchased the property of Bernard J. and Viola C. Noel, McSherrystown, for $2,600 at sheriff's sale held on the steps of the Court House.

Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz said W. M. Westfall represented the state in making the purchase, but said he did not know what department he represented, or the nature of the state's interest in the seven room frame house and lot.

Attendance Rises Again

Mr. Kerr said attendance for the week was 623, the second consecutive week in which an increase in attendance has been shown.

Truce Signing Expected To Take Place Sunday; Detailed Arrangements Are Kept Secret

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Final details of a Korean armistice appeared to have been all but wrapped up today and the historic document halting more than three years of bloodshed could be signed Sunday (tonight, United States time).

Exact arrangements for signing the truce were too secret, but informed quarters indicated original plans for the top military commanders of both sides to appear at Panmunjom have been changed.

The revised plans reportedly call for the senior armistice negotiators for the U. N. Command and North Korean Gen. Nam Il for the Communists—to sign the truce and put it into force. It would halt the fighting within 12 hours.

No Reasons Given

The top military commanders—Gen. Mark Clark, North Korean Marshal Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai—would sign at their respective headquarters later.

No reason was given for the reported change in plans, but Korean sources said Friday Kim might not travel to Panmunjom, which could account for the reported change in arrangements.

There was no official word as to when the truce would be signed, but Washington officials said Friday the world would be given 24 hours advance notice.

Met Again Friday

Allied and Communist liaison officers met again Friday, reportedly to put finishing touches on plans for an imminent cease-fire. These officers normally arrange meetings of the full truce delegations, which would approve the date for signing ceremonies.

Authoritative sources both in Korea and in Washington agreed the signing would be Sunday or Monday (Saturday or Sunday, United States time)—barring a last minute (Please Turn to Page 7)

Reapportionment Bill Ready For Governor's Desk; Expect Session To Reach Adjournment Monday

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill reapportioning the membership of the House of Representatives for the first time since 1921 headed for Gov. John S. Pene's desk today for certain approval.

The legislature completed action on the plan last night, removing the last major obstacle for a Monday adjournment of the 1953 legislature.

The House accepted a joint House-Senate conference report on reapportionment by a 186-40 vote. The Senate followed through by adopting the report unanimously.

First In 32 Years

It was a personal triumph for Chairman Leroy A. Weidner (R-Berks) of the House Reapportionment Committee, who carried the bill for redistricting of the House membership, the first such in 32 years.

The Senate, in contrast, allowed a reapportionment plan for its own 50 members die in committee. The House plan increases the membership from 208 to 210 and boosts the representation in nine counties and reduces it in eight counties.

Democrats Join

Democrats, who originally opposed the proposal, joined in agreement after concessions were made in Democratic areas in Western Pennsylvania.

Meanwhile, the Senate Rules Committee killed a House-passed plan to increase maximum weekly workers' compensation benefits from $30 to $32.50.

The action was ironic since it was this legislation that was largely responsible for changing the final adjournment date of the 1953 legislature from today until Monday.

Final Vote Monday

The Senate will, however, approved labor-backed companion measures to raise workers' compensation and occupational disease benefits from a maximum of $30 a week to $32.50. These increases will be in a position for a final vote Monday.

The House readied a vote on a Senate-passed measure to increase the borrowing capacity of the General State Authority from 235 million dollars to 330 millions.

The borrow-and-build agency, revived in 1949 in a move to bypass the commonwealth's million dollar debt limit, would use the additional 95 millions primarily for welfare department projects.

Appropriations Struggle

The lawmakers continued to struggle with the massive task of bringing the 932 million dollar general appropriation bill into shape.

Already passed by the House, it is in the hands of the Senate where (Continued on Page 2)

State Purchases County Property

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania this morning purchased the property of Bernard J. and Viola C. Noel, McSherrystown, for $2,600 at sheriff's sale held on the steps of the Court House.

Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz said W. M. Westfall represented the state in making the purchase, but said he did not know what department he represented, or the nature of the state's interest in the seven room frame house and lot.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

CORN, PEACHES MORE PLENTIFUL ON MART TODAY

Egg prices mostly advanced; corn and peaches were more plentiful, while other commodities, both in prices and quantity, remained about the same at the Farmers Market today.

Only a few sour cherries were on sale, with farmers stating that the ones offered this morning at 30 cents a quart box, a nickel increase over last week, were the last of the season.

Lima beans, making a first appearance according to the farmers, were selling at 35 cents a pint box. New apples, now in their second week on the market, were much more plentiful today, with the price remaining the same for the Transparents and Rambos, generally 15 cents a quart box, 25 a quarter peck and 45 a half peck. With some higher, up to 35 a quarter and 65 a half peck.

Blackberries 45 Cents
Peaches were selling well at varying prices depending on size and quality. Most Red Free and other early varieties were 25 to 30 cents a quart box.

Red raspberries were 30 cents a quart box, an increase of five cents; blackberries were 45 cents a quart box, and wineberries were 25 cents a pint box.

New potatoes varied from 25 to 30 a quarter peck and 45 to 50 cents a half peck. Eggs for the most part were 70 cents a dozen; some were available at 65 cents.

Dressed chickens—fryers—continued at 60 cents a pound. Cucumbers varied in price according to size from a penny apiece to two for five cents.

Other Prices Held
Beets were ten cents a bunch; radishes, ten cents a bunch; parsley, five cents a bunch.

Butter sold for 65 to 75 cents a pound. Some apple butter was available at 50 cents a 28-ounce jar and buttermilk in the same size container was ten cents.

Whipping cream was 40 cents a pint; potato salad, 25 cents a pint; cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint; bread, 20 cents a loaf; rolls, 20 cents a dozen; cookies, 30 and 35 cents a dozen; sticky buns, 35 cents a dozen; pies, 50 and 60 cents apiece and cakes from $1 to $1.50.

Several varieties of flowers were on sale at prices from 25 to 50 cents a bunch up to gladioli selling for 75 cents a dozen.

Eight Crash Iron Curtain In Homemade Armored Car

MUNICH, Germany July 25 (AP)—A home-made armored car, so cleverly built that it fooled Czech border guards, crashed through the Iron Curtain today bringing eight people to safety in the West.

Bavarian border police said a 31-year-old Czech mechanic, his wife and their two small children, two Czech soldiers and civilian man and woman roared across to freedom near Wald-Muenchen in Southern Bavaria. They asked asylum.

They first reported the vehicle to be a tank, but said later it was a beautifully-built armored car with tank treads, so well done that they had assumed it was a Czech Army tank.

Covered With Foliage
It was decked with foliage as camouflage and as it rammed through the barbed wire barrier near Wald-Muenchen, a Czech Army patrol, heavily armed, watched it open-mouthed. They apparently believed it a Czech armored reconnaissance car and held their fire.

A German border official declined to give the names of any of the occupants. They were taken to Cham, near Wald-Muenchen, and turned over to U. S. Army Intelligence officials. In such cases refugees are not permitted to talk with outsiders until interrogation is completed.

But a border policeman who talked with the group shortly after the eight escaped from their Communist-dominated homeland, said the young mechanic, a native of Pilsen, told this story:

Reds Steal Ship
Two years ago he decided to flee, a conviction which solidified when his machine shop was confiscated and he was forced to operate it for the Communist state.

Painfully, week after week and month after month, he collected pieces of scrap iron and steel. Secretly and at night, he slowly built the armored car which was

KITE FLYING CONTEST SOON AT "REC" PARK

With the announcement of results of the "wacky" hat contest and umbrella show Friday at the Recreation Park, Recreation Director Ira Kerr disclosed plans for a kite making project, a kite flying contest and an arts and crafts display on dates yet to be announced.

Judy Weikert, wearing a large navy blue hat with a veil and comically decorated with cards, a pop bottle and peanut butter jar lids, was judged winner of the "funniest" hat contest at the "Rec" park on Friday.

Charles Smith was voted the boy with the largest hat and Loretta Smith was the winner in the girls' division of the same contest. Anna Oyler was judged the contestant with the smallest hat.

3 Umbrella Winners
Eddie Smith had the most old-fashioned hat. It was a brown straw with the crown missing and it had a large brown satin bow tied in the back. Cheryl Shaffer with a blue and white bonnet trimmed with ruffles and flowers, tied under the chin with a large blue satin bow was voted the girl with the cutest hat.

Three prizes were awarded in the umbrella contest. Patrick Redding had the "best decorated" umbrella; Bonnie Keefe, the largest, and Anna Oyler had the most original entry. The latter winner was an umbrella frame decorated with silver and lavender aluminum foil wrapping paper.

Attendance Rises Again
Mr. Kerr said attendance for the week was 633, the second consecutive week in which an increase in attendance has been shown.

Truce Signing Expected To Take Place Sunday; Detailed Arrangements Are Kept Secret

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Final details of a Korean armistice appeared to have been all but wrapped up today and the historic document halting more than three years of bloodshed could be signed Sunday (tonight, United States time).

Exact arrangements for signing the truce were top secret, but informed quarters indicated original plans for the top military commanders of both sides to appear at Panmunjom had been changed.

The revised plans reportedly call for the senior armistice negotiators—Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., for the U. N. Command and North Korean Gen. Nam Il for the Communists—to sign the truce and put it into force. It would halt the fighting within 12 hours.

No Reasons Given
The top military commanders—Gen. Mark Clark, North Korean Marshal Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai—would sign at their respective headquarters later.

No reason was given for the reported change in plans, but Korean sources said Friday Kim might not travel to Panmunjom, which could account for the reported change in arrangements.

There was no official word as to when the truce would be signed, but Washington officials said Friday the world would be given 24 hours advance notice.

Met Again Friday
Allied and Communist liaison officers met again Friday, reportedly to put finishing touches on plans for an imminent cease-fire. These officers normally arrange meetings of the full truce delegations, which would approve the date for signing ceremonies.

Authoritative sources both in Korea and in Washington agreed the signing would be Sunday or Monday (Saturday or Sunday, United States time)—barring a last minute

Times Installs New Engraving Machine, Photographic Equipment To Expand Service To Subscribers, Patrons

Today The Gettysburg Times inaugurates another new service to the community, with the installation of a Scan-A-Graver, an engraving machine which makes engravings within a few minutes. Previously all photographs had to be sent to engravers out of the borough before the pictures could be reproduced in The Times.

The Scan-A-Graver not only provides an additional news service, but an outstanding service for advertisers and those in need of job printing.

Prior to the installation of the machine eight advertisers had already purchased space based on use of engravings made by the new engraver, the advertising department reported.

Immediate Reproduction
The new equipment permits the immediate reproduction of not only photographs, but of line drawings, signatures and other types of material for use in news stories, advertisements and job printing.

In the process, a photograph, drawing or other subject is placed on a cylinder under an "electric eye." As the cylinder revolves, the tiny light of the "eye" picks up gradations of color in the photograph. These are translated into electric impulses which activate an electric cutter operating on a plastic plate on another cylinder on the machine.

The cutter punches tiny holes in the plastic, producing 85 tiny dots in each square inch. The dots are larger or smaller, deeper or shallower, depending upon the lightness or darkness of the particular portion of the picture which it is reproducing. When the picture is completed it is completely reproduced, by the tiny "dots," on the plastic.

Additional Service
The plastic "cut" is then placed on the page castings on the press to be reproduced in the editions of The Gettysburg Times. Or they can be mounted for use in job printing, or advertising.

Pictures In One Minute
Together with the installation of the new engraving machine, The Gettysburg Times has also increased its photographic equipment to provide more service for news, advertising and job printing purposes. This is in addition to the regular photographic service it receives from the Lane Studio.

With the new photographic equipment a picture can be taken of any subject, a print made and an engraving reproduced within seven minutes.

This speedup on picture service is made possible by the addition of a polaroid attachment to the camera that has been in use in The Gettysburg Times news room for a number of years. The polaroid equipment produces a finished print one minute after the shutter is snapped and the finished picture can be put on the Scan-A-Graver immediately.

R. C. Water Safety Classes End Monday

"Chip" Swope, Lost Two Hours, Found At Home

Three-and-a-half-year-old James Donald "Chip" Swope, son of Attorney and Mrs. Donald M. Swope, W. Broadway, was the object of an extensive search this morning, which ended when the child appeared in his crib.

Mrs. Beulah Heyser, Biglerville, "baby-sitting" for the Swopes, went upstairs shortly before 11 p.m. to check on the children.

She found "Chip" was not in his crib. Attorney and Mrs. Swope, caught by the fire traffic, did not arrive until about 11:45 o'clock. By then Mrs. Heyser had searched the house without success. Attorney and Mrs. Swope, two borough police, six firemen and neighbors joined in the search of the neighborhood.

Then "Chip" appeared on the stairs. He later showed the group where he had been during the two-hour search. Wanting to "see the engines" when the fire siren sounded, he had gone into his parents' room and climbed over the head of a bed onto a window sill to look out the window. There he fell asleep.

ADAMS COUNTY FAIR TO BE HELD AUGUST 11 TO 15

The sixth annual Adams County Fair will be held August 11-15 on the Adams County Fairgrounds between Abbottstown and East Berlin on Route 194. President Stewart V. Walker, New Oxford, expects this year's attendance and display to be superior to past years.

The 1953 fair will feature a large display of farm machinery, home-cooked meals, which will be served in the main dining room of the fairgrounds, and entertainment of all kinds including rides.

Exhibits are welcome in all departments and entry blanks may be secured from the following department managers: Poultry, Melvin E. Zellman, Lincoln Way West, New Oxford; cattle and hogs, Kenneth Walker, New Oxford.

Poultry Department
Entry fees of 50 cents per bird will be charged in the poultry department and of $1 per animal in the cattle and hog departments. Entry blanks and fees must be in the hands of the department managers no later than August 1. Both cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded winning entries.

No entry fees will be charged in the Horticulture and Home Economics Departments, but all exhibits must be placed in the department before 7 p.m. Tuesday evening, August 11, and all entries must purchase an exhibitor's ticket for $1 which will permit daily entry to the fair.

There will be special livestock classes for FFA and 4-H Clubs, as well as school projects which will be judged by themselves and not in competition with other projects. There will be no fees for these entries.

Judging August 12
Judging will begin Wednesday morning, August 12, at 9 o'clock. Feature attractions will include a tractor driving contest on Friday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., under the direction of John Kratzart, and special entertainment Saturday afternoon with kiddies' rides reduced to 9 cents between 2 and 5 p.m.

$20,000 Blaze Of Unknown Origin Destroys Big Barn On Paul Settle Farm, 7 Stars

Fire, of as yet undetermined origin, completely destroyed a large barn on the Paul M. Settle property east of Seven Stars on the Lincoln Highway Friday night.

The State Fire Marshal's office is scheduled to make an investigation of the conflagration. Fire Chief Donald Jacobs said today. A preliminary investigation is being made today for the fire marshal's office by the local State Police.

The loss, covered to a large extent by insurance, was set tentatively at $20,000.

Firemen, who were called at 10:10 o'clock Friday night to the scene, continued their labors until about 3 o'clock this morning before the flames in the smoldering ruins were completely extinguished.

"Seemed To Explode"
Witnesses said the barn "seemed to explode" into flame. A moment before, they said, the barn was not afire; then suddenly it seemed to be afire everywhere.

Those who made such reports to the firemen were persons driving within a mile or two of the fire. State policemen, following a speeder, passed the barn within a few minutes of the start of the fire, and said they noticed nothing amiss at the time. A few minutes later the barn was a mass of flames.

The family of Clarence Baker, which resides in the house at the farm which is owned and operated by Mr. Settle, had gone to bed. The barking dog aroused Mrs. Baker. She looked out a window and saw the barn a mass of flame. She called the Gettysburg Fire Department.

Filled With Hay, Grain
Flames shot 50 or more feet into the air as they consumed the approximately 60 by 80 foot barn, which was filled with tons of hay and grain. From time to time as sections of the barn gave way and the baled hay rolled out to the ground the flames shot high into the air again. The roof burned off a tile silo, and for a time the burning ensilage caused flames to shoot high from the top of the silo—as if it were a chimney.

An employee of Mr. Settle, who arrived at the scene within minutes after the fire was discovered, attempted to remove a tractor from the barn. Finding the heat more than he could stand, he rushed nearby to get a piece of canvas as a shield. He returned to the barn within moments, but blazing straw and hay had fallen about the tractor and its tires were afire.

Save Other Buildings
Firemen pumped water, by portable pump and by truck, from a run well of the barn, a distance of about 300 yards. Three large out-buildings, a garage, a combined hog pen and chicken house and another large shed, were prevented from burning, although the ends facing the barn on the garage and chicken house-hog pen blazed briefly and were badly charred.

There was no livestock in the barn, but firemen drove hogs and chickens out of a threatened shed in which they were penned. A horse, in a pasture near the barn, seemed driven frantic by the blaze, rushed about, attempting to get into the blazing barn. Men at the scene restrained the animal from entering the barn until it calmed and made no further attempts.

Two large trees, to the west of the barn, lost leaves and branches when the heat caused them to burst into brief blaze.

Visible For Miles
The heat was so intense that several firemen suffered fairly painful burns, similar to sunburn, on flesh of arms and shoulders that was in contact with their raincoats.

The fire could be seen for miles. A truck driver, stopped at the fire where one-lane traffic was maintained throughout the night because of the hose crossing the road, said he saw the fire first as he was leaving Baltimore.

The fire apparently was seen throughout most of Adams County. Biglerville firemen were summoned to a fire they believed near Mummasburg. They radioed the central station here and found the fire they had reported as being in Mummasburg was the Settle barn along the Lincoln Highway near Seven Stars.

Boneauville and New Oxford firemen, seeing the blaze, called the central station by radio, saying they were standing by in case Gettysburg needed assistance.

Arendtsville There
The Arendtsville fire department came in to the fire and aided with booster tanks on their equipment.

Gettysburg's Mack truck made what firemen said was "probably a record run" from Littlestown. The truck, with four firemen aboard, had been to Manchester to take part in a parade there. They were enroute home, near Littlestown, when they heard the firemen's radio station, reported in, and then came to the scene at top speed, with policemen clearing their way through the town and out the Chambersburg pike.

COLLIDE IN ALLEY
Cars operated by O. C. Rice, 76, Biglerville, and Ora Boone, 31, Biglerville R. 1, collided Friday evening at 5:05 o'clock at the intersection of two alleys in Biglerville. Rice was headed north and Boone east at the time of the crash. State Police, who investigated, said damage totaled $50.

DIVORCE GRANTED
The Adams County Court this morning granted Jennie (Watson) Strausbaugh, Fairfield R. 1, a divorce from Francis B. Strausbaugh, also of Fairfield R. 1.

Two Rifles And Cap Of Three Murdered Pa. Hunters Are Found Near Scene Of Slaying

GASPE, Que. (AP)—Provincial Police announced today that two missing rifles of three slain Pennsylvania hunters have been found near the remote wooded Gaspe area where their bear-gnawed remains were discovered.

Capt. J. Alphonse Matte said further search also has turned up a pair of binoculars and a hunting cap. Combining of the rugged terrain is continuing, he said.

The rifles have been turned over to experts for examination. The three hunters, who police say were murdered in cold blood, were Eugene H. Lindsey, 45; his son Richard, 17, and Fred Claar, 20. All were from Hollidaysburg, Pa. Robbery was believed to have been the motive for the killings.

Their mangled bodies were found after they had been reported overdue on a bear-hunting trip and a search was started. The remains of the elder Lindsey, circled by bear tracks, were found last week deep in the woods of the Gaspe Peninsula. Searchers came across some of the youths' bones and clothing Thursday at a spot four miles away.

4 KNOWN DEAD, 4 MISSING AFTER TANKER BLAST

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Four persons are known to be dead in the explosion and fire aboard a tanker and two others Thursday night. Meanwhile the Coast Guard and harbor patrols continued their search of the Delaware River for the bodies of four other men missing and presumed dead in the tragedy.

One man died in Delaware Hospital last night of third degree burns which covered 60 per cent of his body. He was Harry Boyer, 49, of Philadelphia, a seaman aboard the tugboat J. H. Deimle.

Recover 3 Bodies

Three bodies were recovered from the river. Chief Deputy Coroner Herbert M. Harrington at Wilmington identified them as:

Ray Ott, 52, of Galveston, Tex., second assistant engineer of the tanker, the Pan Georgia; Albert Merck, 32, of Delmar, N. J., and James Edgar King of Philadelphia, members of the Deimle.

The fire raged through the Pan Georgia as she had almost completed emptying her hold of 11,000 barrels of fuel oil and high octane gasoline shortly before midnight Thursday.

Blame Spark

The tugs, the Deimle and the Waco, were waiting to guide the tanker out into the river from the marine terminal where she was unloading before starting a return trip to Texas City, Tex.

A member of the tanker's crew, Joseph H. Boland, 55, of Galveston, Tex., said he thought the fire started when a spark from one of the tugs blew into a working hold of the tanker.

Crew members leaped into the river and either swam ashore or were rescued by Coast Guard and Army Engineer units in the area. Eight members of the Pan Georgia were taken to Delaware Hospital.

SOIL DISTRICT IN U. S. CONTEST

Adams County soil conservation district has entered the national Soil Conservation Awards program sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio, and it was announced today by District Chairman Clarence Waybright, of Gettysburg.

Members of the Adams County district will compete against other soil conservation districts in the state. Non-partisan judging committees, selected from among Pennsylvania's soil conservation movement leaders, will determine the state's outstanding district for the period July 1, 1953, to April 30, 1954, on a basis of total points scored in performance of regular district duties.

Grand award for one member of each winning district governing body and the top cooperating farmer or rancher named by the district will be a one-week, expense-free, vacation trip to Goodyear's winter resort, the Wigwam Guest ranch on Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park, Ariz., in December, 1954.

Members of the Adams County district governing body who will compete for the award are: Clarence J. Waybright, W. Clayton Jesner, Robert C. Lox, John Peters, and Karl Smith.

National winners of the Goodyear Soil Conservation Awards will be announced at the seven regular area meetings of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts. Plaques will be awarded at these conventions to the hundred first and second place winning districts.

There's no place like home for the Schenectady Blue Jays of the Eastern League.

Back from an eight-game road trip, the Jays slammed 12 hits off four Elmira pitchers last night and trounced the Pioneers, 17-0, behind Johnny Meyer's exhibition.

The Wilkes-Barre Barons sank further into the cellar of losing their ninth straight game, 9-0, to the league-leading Reading Indians. The Lancaster Trojans beat the Albany Senators, 6-0, and the Williamsport Mariners topped the Scranton Athletics, 5-0.

ANOTHER RED GESTAPO BOSS UNDER ARREST

BERLIN (AP) — Mystery surrounded the ouster of Red Gestapo Boss Wilhelm Zaisser today. Rumors he is under secret arrest in East Berlin, victim of a "Beria purge" were offset by reports he would come back to head both army and police.

The ousted German — the "General Gomez" of Spanish Civil War fame — was suddenly replaced as chief of state security by Ernest Wollweber and his 100,000 police agents were put under control of the Interior Ministry.

It was the biggest Communist shakeup in the East German republic's 4-year history.

Rumors were that Zaisser who often bragged he possessed a direct pipeline to Lavrenty P. Beria — had now forfeited his liberty because of his generation-long friendship with the purged Soviet police boss.

Investigates Staff

Unconfirmed reports said Wollweber, in taking over Zaisser's office, had immediately begun a drastic investigation of all Zaisser's staff, seeking scapegoats who failed to weed out "Fascist provocateurs" in Soviet zone industry before the June 17 revolt of workers.

Zaisser, who has served Russia as a military man for 18 years, was summarily relieved as security minister yesterday and the ministry itself was reduced to a secretariat and incorporated in the Ministry of the Interior.

Both Zaisser and his chief aide in the Security Ministry, Communist Erich Meiske, have vanished at least temporarily from public view in the continuing governmental crisis.

to bring him to freedom. After 24 months of labor the vehicle was ready, built as closely along the Czech Army lines as possible. He fitted it with tank treads.

The two soldiers and the two civilians were friends of his and they planned with him. The mechanic's 29-year-old wife was readied and so were their two children. They selected the crossing near Wald-Muenchen because the mechanic had become familiar with the area while working as a driver of a labor transport.

Fool Police, Soldiers

They got a pistol and a Tommy gun and at 3 a.m. left Pilsen. The twigs and branches served to dull the suspicions of police and soldiers as they left the Czech city for it appeared to be only another Army reconnaissance car out on assignment.

They reached the area of Wald-Muenchen, and drove along the frontier where the road adjoins the heavy barbed-wire barricades set up by Czech Army patrols. The young mechanic wrenched the wheel and the tank plunged off the road and headed toward the oared wire.

THIRD MARINES SENT TO CLARK

QUANTICO MARINE BASE, Va. (AP) — The Third Marine Division is being sent to the Far East, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced today.

Hagerty, here with President Eisenhower for a conference of military and civilian leaders, made the announcement in reply to reporters' questions.

The Third Marine Division is headquartered at Camp Pendleton, Calif. Part of the division, however, is in Hawaii.

The First Marine Divisions has been in Korea since early in the war, but Hagerty said he could not say whether that division will remain or be withdrawn from the war zone.

"The only thing I can say," Hagerty told reporters, "is that the Third Marine Division has been assigned to Gen. Mark Clark in the Far East Theater."

By-Passed Captain Will Be Promoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has decided to add an admiral's gold braid to the uniform that Capt. Hyman G. Rickover, its atomic propulsion expert, was once scheduled to doff because he was twice passed by for promotion.

Rickover, 53-year-old native of Chicago, was listed among 29 captains selected for promotion to rear admiral. The announcement by the Navy last night brought recollections of the congressional uproar last spring, when a secret selection board passed him up the second time.

By law, this would have forced his retirement last June 30. But the Navy took special action in March to keep him on active duty another year and clear the way for his promotion.

into any discussion about suspects or possible arrests. He made it clear that the immediate aim of the police is search and more search—for every clue, every scrap of evidence leading to a complete reconstruction of what happened and how it happened, why the Americans were killed and their bodies left to the bears.

Will Examine Weapons

The rifles and other articles were found in an area extending about 400 feet from an unused logging camp where the scattered bones of young Lindsey and Claar were found Thursday. Matte said the weapons will be turned over to experts for examination.

He offered no comment on reports that the police investigation is widening and that authorities in Montreal and other centers have been given specific instructions.

Informants here said one phase of the extended investigation would be the possible disposition of equipment that disappeared, although recovery of the rifles and pair of binoculars eliminates the more expensive pieces from the theory of theft.

But about $700 known to have been carried by the elder Lindsey has not been accounted for. Neither have cooking and eating utensils and food supplies carried in the truck.

Police continued to discount any connection between the slaying of the hunters and the murder and robbery yesterday of Edgar Audet, store manager at New Richmond, 160 miles from here.

A spokesman for the attorney general's department said in Quebec last night that representatives of the Lindsey and Claar families will be asked to come to Gaspé about the middle of next week to identify the youths' remains.

the scene, parking for more than a mile along the road on either side of the fire. The one-lane traffic at the scene, plus the number of curious caused traffic to "tie-up" for miles on either side of the blaze as first one lane and then the other was sent through the one-way section. Fire police and state police were kept on duty throughout most of night to keep traffic moving.

The owner of the farm, Paul Settle, had gone to the farm about 9:15 p.m. to check the grain and hay against the possibility of its "heating." He found nothing amiss at the time and the grain bins were cooking.

The last of the baled hay had been placed in the barn about ten days ago and some straw was placed there about a week ago. The barn contained Settle's entire grain crop as well as hay and straw and was "filled to the eaves," it was reported. He estimated the value of the crops and equipment in the barn as about equal to the value of the barn itself.

4 KNOWN DEAD, 4 MISSING AFTER TANKER BLAST

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Four persons are known to be dead in the explosion and fire aboard a tanker and two tugboats Thursday night. Meanwhile the Coast Guard and harbor patrols continued their search of the Delaware River for the bodies of four other men missing and presumed dead in the tragedy.

One man died in Delaware Hospital last night of third degree burns which covered 60 per cent of his body. He was Harry Boyer, 49, of Philadelphia, a seaman aboard the tugboat J. H. Deimlein.

Recover 3 Bodies
Three bodies were recovered from the river. Chief Deputy Coroner Herbert M. Harrington at Wilmington identified them as:

Ray Ott, 32, of Galveston, Tex., second assistant engineer of the tanker, the Pan Georgia; Albert Merck, 32, of Delair, N. J., and James Edgar King of Philadelphia, members of the Deimlein.

The fire ripped through the Pan Georgia as she had almost completed emptying her hold of 111,000 barrels of fuel oil and high octane gasoline shortly before midnight Thursday.

Blame Spark
The tugs, the Deimlein and the Wotoco, were waiting to guide the tanker out into the river from the marine terminal where she was unloading before starting a return trip to Texas City, Tex.

A member of the tanker's crew, Joseph H. Boland, 55, of Galveston, Tex., said he thought the fire started when a spark from one of the tugs blew into a working hold of the tanker.

Crew members leaped into the river and either swam ashore or were rescued by Coast Guard and Army Engineer units in the area. Eight members of the Pan Georgia were taken to Delaware Hospital.

SOIL DISTRICT IN U. S. CONTEST

Adams County soil conservation district has entered the national Soil Conservation Awards program sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio, it was announced today by District Chairman Clarence Waybright, of Gettysburg.

Members of the Adams County district will compete against other soil conservation districts in the state. Non-partisan judging committees, selected from among Pennsylvania's soil conservation movement leaders, will determine the state's outstanding district for the period July 1, 1953, to April 30, 1954, on a basis of total points scored in performance of regular district duties.

Grand award for one member of each winning district governing body and the top cooperating farmer or rancher named by the district will be a one-week, expense-free, vacation trip to Goodyear's winter resort, the Wigwam Guest ranch on Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park, Ariz., in December, 1954.

Members of the Adams County district governing body who will compete for the award are: Clarence J. Waybright, W. Clayton Jester, Robert C. Lott, John Peters and Karl Smith.

National winners of the Goodyear Soil Conservation Awards will be announced at the seven regular area meetings of the National Association of Soil Conservation districts. Plaques will be awarded at these conventions to the hundred first and second place winning districts.

Reapportionment

25½ million dollars in cuts from the governor's budget are the objects of dispute.

As a sidelight, it was on-again, off-again in the Senate Appropriations Committee as to whether state employees should receive a 10 per cent salary increase or a across-the-board $250 a year boost.

Signals Changed
Both alternatives were adopted at different times yesterday, with signals changed and the issue still in doubt.

A proposal to create a state comptroller with cabinet rank, while ripping out most of the duties of the auditor general, was ditched by the House last night.

Instead, the lower branch restored the measure to its original form to provide that appointments made directly by the governor instead of the department heads. A comptroller general in the governor's office would have general supervision over the other comptrollers.

into any discussion about suspects or possible arrests. He made it clear that the immediate aim of the police is search and more search—for every clue, every scrap of evidence leading to a complete reconstruction of what happened and how it happened, why the Americans were killed and their bodies left to the bears.

Will Examine Weapons
The rifles and other articles were found in an area extending about 400 feet from an unused logging camp where the scattered bones of young Lindsey and Clair were found Thursday. Matte said the weapons will be turned over to experts for examination.

He offered no comment on reports that the police investigation is widening and that authorities in Montreal and other centers have been given specific instructions.

Informants here said one phase of the extended investigation would be the possible disposition of equipment that disappeared, although recovery of the rifles and pair of binoculars eliminates the more expensive pieces from the theory of theft.

But about $700 known to have been carried by the elder Lindsey has not been accounted for. Neither have cooking and eating utensils and food supplies carried in the truck.

Swimming Party On Littlestown Rec Program Next Wednesday

The attendance remains high and the interest keen at the daily activities of the community summer recreation program. There were no special events during this week and the children continued working with plaster of paris molds. Dish holders were woven out of raffia paper and work will be carried on next week with dish holders, the racks and canoes made of cardboard, paper plates and raffia paper. The boys and girls will finish the project of making Indian quivers. Robert Hahn received honorable mention for making the best decorated Indian quiver last week.

Mrs. Kay C. Seitz and Clayton L. Evans, playground instructors, have announced that on Wednesday afternoon, the children will enjoy a swimming party at Crouse's pool near town. Transportation will be furnished. There will be no cost. The boys and girls who plan to go swimming should register with the playground instructors and present their parent's signed permission slip on Monday or Tuesday. More information concerning the party will be announced later.

The long awaited doll show will be held next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the playground. Awards will be presented. Details will be announced later.

Chorus To Sing
Members of the Littlestown Men's Chorus will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock for a brief rehearsal prior to going to St. John's Church, in Stewartstown, to present a concert.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hess and son, John, Crystal, Pa., returned home after visiting for a week with relatives in this vicinity.
A picnic for the members of the Pathfinders' Sunday School class of the St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run, and their families will be held at the home of Mrs. Elwood Wanzel on Sunday evening.

Legion Gains Two
Two new members were received into the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 231, American Legion, at the second July meeting of the Legion on Thursday evening at the post home. East King St. They were Harry C. Wildasin Jr. and Ray P. Puntieri. Routine business was transacted in charge of the Commander J. Donald Lemmon. The adjutant, Gilbert A. Royson, gave his report. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday, August 13, at 8 p.m.

It has been announced that all members of the local Little League will continue throughout August.

"GREAT LESSONS"

My mother used to tell me . . . to keep my living clean . . . so I could find true peace and joy . . . and live my life serene . . . she told me to be clean of mind . . . as well as clean of face . . . for by so doing I would gain . . . the pleasure of God's grace . . . she also told me to possess . . . a true and snowwhite soul . . . and in this way the Lord would help . . . to guide me to my goal . . . because she said that cleanliness . . . was next to godliness . . . a saying old as time itself . . . and true as God's caress . . . yes, mother taught me to be clean . . . of body, soul and mind . . . a lesson I shall not forget . . . or ever leave behind.

CHAMBER PLANS WEEKLY EVENT

Morris A. Zentz, first vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the regular meeting held recently at the Fire Hall.

After a short business meeting at which a $5 donation was authorized for the St. Joseph College Alumnae Assn., which is sponsoring a movement to have road signs erected, the meeting was turned over to a representative of the Community Treasure Chest.

The Chamber plans to introduce a series of give-aways here. The plan calls for a number of merchants to issue coupons for purchase made in their stores which in turn will be gathered for a grand drawing every Saturday night. The idea of the venture is to draw additional business to the town.

Twenty-one local business establishments have contracted for the enterprise which will continue indefinitely. It is hoped to begin the drawings within the next few weeks and another important meeting of the businessmen who have signed will be held Tuesday night at 8:00 p.m. in the fire hall.

A request from the Shamrock Maps Co. of New York, for informative data concerning Emmitsburg was received and information was ordered to be mailed the company.

Trains At Quantic
Leo M. Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle, E. Main St., is among the 2500 candidates now undergoing officers training at the Marine Corps schools at Quantico, Va.

Candidate Boyle is a member of the Marine Corps' Platoon Leaders Class. Members of this group train for six weeks during the summer vacations from college. Successful candidates are commissioned second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve upon their graduation from college and serve on active duty for two years.

The Emmitsburg officer candidate is a student at St. Mary's College. He graduated from St. Joseph's High School in 1952.

Members of the platoon leaders class receive intensive training in military tactics, leadership and military organization. College students enrolling in this Marine Corps program are trained only during summer vacations.

Upon receiving their commissions, they are eligible for further intensive training at Marine Corps specialist schools.

Stamp News

By SYD KRONISH
The Associated Press

WHEN A PRETTY WOMAN is made to appear unbecomingly in a portrait, her fondest admirers protest vociferously. When that lovely lady happens to be the newly crowned Queen Elizabeth, and her portrait on a new Canadian commemorative stamp is distorted, then millions of her subjects rise up in arms.

The new Canadian stamp stirred up a flood of protests, including newspaper editorials. The complaint is that the new stamps are shoddy and make the radiant ruler look ugly.

Canadian postal officials, bearing the brunt of the attack, are at a loss to explain the situation. They had chosen a photograph of the Queen, received her approval and put the stamps into the regular engraving channels.

However, somewhere in the engraving process something went wrong. The profile portrait depicted Queen Elizabeth as an elderly, sharp-nosed, haggard soul. The shading around the cheeks gave the impression that she needed a shave!

The postal officials hope the supply will be exhausted quickly. And they probably will, too, since this is a coronation issue which many collectors will be anxious to obtain.

PERU has issued a new small set of three, reports the New York Stamp Co. The 40-centavos green shows the ship, "Marcon." The 50-cent olive depicts Garcilaso de la Vega, Peruvian historian. The 10-s grey pictures the inaugural train of Ferrocarril Mantarani.

YUGOSLAVIA has issued four new stamps honoring the recently held "2nd Adriatic Rally," a famed auto race in that area. The 15-dinars orange and carmine depicts an auto passing over Mount Lovchen in Montenegro. The 30-d blue shows a motorcycle and auto near the resort town of Opatov. The 50-d yellow and brown pictures an auto in Belgrade. The 70-d green reveals a car at Trilav, highest point of the Yugoslav Alps.

THE LAST of Japan's tourist series depicts the Kintai Bridge, long famous for its wooden arches. The bridges was washed away during a flood in 1950 but has since been rebuilt on the same site. The 10-yen brown adhesive shows the bridge as it appeared formerly. The 24-yen blue shows it as it is today.

Mr. Everest, 29,000 feet high, could be submerged in the Mariana Trench, south west of Guam.

Blood Clot Takes Life Of Fiery Sen. Charles W. Tobey

WASHINGTON (AP)—A blood clot in his heart took the life of Sen. Charles W. Tobey, the fiery New Hampshire Republican who used a ready store of Bible quotations to fight crime or anything else he opposed.

Last night, just two days after his 73rd birthday, Tobey died at the nearby Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital of coronary thrombosis. He had suffered an attack in his office yesterday afternoon.

"There will never be another Sen. Tobey," said Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who headed the Crime Investigating Committee on which Tobey served.

The death wipes out the Republican majority in the Senate, but New Hampshire's Gov. Hugh Gregg, a Republican, is expected to name a Republican to fill the vacancy. The Senate lineup now stands: 47 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Independent, Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Tobey's green eyeshade, to protect him against the glare of television lights—and his way of dressing down accused racketeers with words from the Bible and the classics—were almost a trademark of the Kefauver Committee's 1951 investigations.

Could Be Harsh
The committee dug into big-time gambling, underworld alliances and vice conditions in cities from coast to coast.

The peppery senator could be harsh if he felt the occasion demanded. He once told a railroad executive to "cut out the bunk" and another time denounced "fat and sleek lobbyists with round heads and round bottoms."

Or he could shut off an acrimonious exchange between his colleagues with an out-of-this-world question, as he did once in a debate over price controls by demanding: "Who killed cock robin?"

Wife Was With Him
He insisted on voting his own convictions, regardless of his party's stand.

When the Republicans took over control of Congress this year, Tobey continued his crime-busting investigations as head of a commerce subcommittee looking into waterfront racketeering.

The group held extensive hearings on the situation on the New York-New Jersey waterfront and Tobey was planning to broaden its scope to other big port cities.

His wife, the former Mrs. Lillian Crompton, was with him when he died.

Married Three Times
There was no immediate word as to funeral arrangements.

His other survivors include four children—Russell, Charles, Mrs. T. A. Munson of Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. Sterling Dean of Washington, D. C.

Tobey, born July 22, 1880, at Roxbury, Mass., was married three times.

His four children were born of his first marriage, on June 2, 1902, to Francis M. Lovett of Boston. She died in August 1947.

On May 26, 1948, Tobey married Mrs. Loretta Capell Radenhorst of Washington, D. C., widow and reputed school teacher with three sons.

His second wife died in 1951, and he married the former Mrs. Crompton, widow of a Philadelphia leather executive, on Sept. 29, 1952.

Swimming Party On Littlestown Rec Program Next Wednesday

The attendance remains high and the interest keen at the daily activities of the community summer recreation program. There were no special events during this week and the children continued working with plaster of paris molds. Dish holders were woven out of raffia paper and work will be carried on next week with dish holders, tie racks and canoes made of cardboard, paper plates and raffia paper. The boys and girls will finish the project of making Indian quivers. Robert Hahn received honorable mention for making the best decorated Indian quiver last week.

Mrs. Kay C. Sentz and Clayton L. Evans, playground instructors, have announced that on Wednesday afternoon, the children will enjoy a swimming party at Crouse's pool, near town. Transportation will be furnished. There will be no cost. The boys and girls who plan to go swimming should register with the playground instructors and present their parent's signed permission slip on Monday or Tuesday. More information concerning the party will be announced later.

The long awaited doll show will be held next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the playground. Awards will be presented. Details will be announced later.

Chorus To Sing
Members of the Littlestown Men's Chorus will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday evening at 5:45 o'clock for a brief rehearsal prior to going to St. John's Church, in Stewartstown, to present a concert.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hess and son, John, Crystal, Ill., returned home after visiting for a week with relatives in this vicinity.

A picnic for the members of the Pathfinders' Sunday School class of St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run, and their families will be held at the home of Mrs. Elwood Wantz, on Sunday evening.

Legion Gains Two
Two new members were received into the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 231, American Legion, at the second July meeting of the Legion on Thursday evening at the post home, East King St. They were Harry C. Wildasin Jr. and Ray Pittenturf. Routine business was transacted in charge of Commander J. Donald Lemmon. The adjutant, Gilbert A. Royston, gave his report. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday, August 13, at 8 p.m.

It has been announced that all members of the local Little League will baseball teams, not including the 14 all-star players, who wish to attend the four district Little League tournament game on Monday, should meet at 1 p.m. at the high school building on Maple Ave. Players are asked to wear their caps but not their uniforms to attend the game. The bus will return to town about 5 o'clock. The game will be played between Newville and Littlestown on the Moose Field in Chambersburg at 2 p.m.

The Little Leaguers are requested to meet at the high school on Friday evening at 6:45 o'clock to participate in the parade to precede the Old Timers baseball game. The boys, who will be guests at the game, should wear their uniforms in the parade.

Old Timers To Practice
There will be practice for all those who plan to take part in the Old Timers baseball game on Monday and Wednesday evenings between 6 and 8 o'clock. The returning Old Timers are also invited to attend the practice sessions of the town baseball team on Tuesday and Thursday from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Littlestown Memorial Field.

Members of the Alpha Fire Company No. 1 are asked to report to the playground on Monday evening to hold erect stands for the company carnival to be held the week of August 3.

There will be a special meeting of the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Alpha Fire Company on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the engine house. Plans will be made for the Auxiliary to assist and conduct a food stand at the firemen's carnival.

Mrs. Roger Bair will be the leader at the July meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. James' Reformed Church, along the Harney Rd., on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the church. Mrs. Elmer King, Mrs. Edith Buntz and Mrs. Robert Laughman will serve as hostesses.

New Oxford

NEW OXFORD — Richard U. Smith, Cyril Rickrode, Pius Robinson, Frank Flesman, Regis Gebhart, Fidelis J. Lingg, Leo Polst of the local Catholic church's Holy Name society, will represent their parish next weekend at the first of a series of annual laymen's retreats at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. Other men of the parish have signed up for subsequent retreats which will continue throughout August.

"GREAT LESSONS"

My mother used to tell me . . . to keep my living clean . . . so I could find true peace and joy . . . and live my life serene . . . she told me to be clean of mind . . . as well as clean of face . . . for by so doing I would gain . . . the pleasure of God's grace . . . a true and snowwhite soul . . . and in this way the Lord would help . . . to guide me to my goal . . . because she said that cleanliness . . . was next to godliness . . . a saying old as time itself . . . and true as God's caress . . . yes, mother taught me to be clean . . . of body, soul and mind . . . a lesson I shall not forget . . . or ever leave behind.

Anyone, Catholic or non-Catholic, interested in attending, is asked to contact John A. Robinson for an application blank or to take one from the vestibule of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Smith, who were married two weeks ago, have begun housekeeping in Hanover where Mr. Smith has a position, and where the bride, formerly Miss Dolores Noel, of New Oxford, is a nurse at the Hanover Hospital.

Mrs. William Bennett, Hanover, formerly Miss Evelyn M. Todt, this section, is able to be about after a series of brief stays at the Hanover Hospital during the past year.

The Rev. Philip J. Gergen, pastor of the local Catholic parish, who has been ill for the past month with a heart ailment and is recovering at his physician's, has been ordered by his physician to spend several weeks at a rest-cure. During his absence, the Rev. G. Zorn, a Jesuit Father, has been here to attend to these duties.

Mrs. Lloyd Wolfe has been visiting in the Spring Grove area where she joined friends from Duquesne at the home of relatives, the Kepner family.

Mrs. Ambrose P. Wagner, who is spending the summer at her Dicks' Dam cottage, will entertain at a public card party there for the benefit of the local Catholic church on July 29, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Wagner will be assisted by the women of the parish who will bring homemade cakes and pies.

East Berlin

EAST BERLIN—Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Weichert, York R. 10, formerly of Coneyago Park, were visitors here during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Himes, near here, have been entertaining Diane Zeigler, Carlisle.

Fred and Sam Ebersole, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ebersole, R. 1, graduates of the 1953 class of the local high school, are preparing to enter college in the fall. Fred at York Junior College, York, and his brother at Penn State.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bushey, Jackson Twp., entertained a number of members of the Paradise Reformed church, in honor of the pastor, the Rev. Keller Brantley, and his wife, who recently returned from a vacation trip to visit relatives at their former home in North Carolina. A covered-dish supper was a feature.

Wayne Thomas, lyric baritone and a graduate of the 1947 class of the local high school, is preparing to leave by motor for a trip to the West Coast where he will do much sight-seeing and also fill singing engagements in California for some time.

Another local vocalist and a member of the same high school class, Miss Margaret Ann Moul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moul, who completed her first year as a voice student at the Julliard School of Music, New York City, has learned that she was one of two top-ranking voice students in the spring examination. Miss Moul was notified last week that she has been granted an additional scholarship at Julliard for the coming year as a reward for her exceptional progress and effort.

Trains At Quantico
Leo M. Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle, E. Main St., is among the 2500 candidates now undergoing officers training at the Marine Corps schools at Quantico, Va.

Candidate Boyle is a member of the Marine Corps' Platoon Leaders Class. Members of this group train for six weeks during the summer vacations from college. Successful candidates are commissioned second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve upon their graduation from college and serve on active duty for two years.

The Emmitsburg officer candidate is a student at Mt. St. Mary's College. He graduated from St. Joseph's High School in 1952.

Members of the platoon leaders class receive intensive training in military tactics, leadership and military organization. College students enrolling in this Marine Corps program are trained only during summer vacations.

Upon receiving their commissions, they are eligible for further intensive training at Marine Corps specialist schools.

CHAMBER PLANS WEEKLY EVENT

Morris A. Zentz, first vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the regular meeting held recently at the Fire Hall.

After a short business meeting at which a $25 donation was authorized for the St. Joseph College Alumnae Assn., which is sponsoring a move to have road signs erected, the meeting was turned over to a representative of the Community Treasure Chest.

The Chamber plans to introduce a series of give-aways here. The plan calls for a number of merchants to issue coupons for purchase made in their stores which in turn will be gathered for a grand drawing every Saturday night. The idea of the venture is to draw additional business to the town.

Twenty-one local business establishments have contracted for the enterprise which will continue indefinitely. It is hoped to begin the drawings within the next few weeks and another important meeting of the businessmen who have signed will be held Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m. in the fire hall.

A request from the Shamrock Maps Co., of New York, for informative data concerning Emmitsburg was received and information was ordered to be mailed the concern.

Stamp News

By SYD KRONISH
The Associated Press

WHEN A PRETTY WOMAN is made to appear unbecomingly in a portrait, her fondest admirers protest vociferously. When that lovely lady happens to be the newly crowned Queen Elizabeth, and her portrait on a new Canadian commemorative stamp is distorted, then millions of her subjects rise up in arms.

The new Canadian stamp stirred up a flood of protests, including newspaper editorials. The complaint is that the new stamps are shoddy and make the radiant ruler look ugly.

Canadian postal officials, bearing the brunt of the attack, are at a loss to explain the situation. They had chosen a photograph of the Queen, received her approval and put the stamps into the regular engraving channels.

However, somewhere in the engraving process something went wrong. The profile portrait depicted Queen Elizabeth as an elderly, sharp-nosed, haggard soul. The shading around the cheeks gave the impression that she needed a shave!

The postal officials hope the supply will be exhausted quickly. And they probably will, too, since this is a coronation issue which many collectors will be anxious to obtain.

PERU has issued a new air-mail set of three, reports the New York Stamp Co. The 40-centavos green shows the ship, "Maranon." The 50-cent olive depicts Garcilaso de la Vega, Peruvian historian. The 10-cent grey pictures the inaugural train of Ferrocarril Mantarani.

YUGOSLAVIA has issued four new stamps honoring the recently held "2nd Adriatic Rally," a famed auto race in that area. The 15-dinars orange and carmine depicts an auto passing over Mount Lovtchen in Montenegro. The 30-d blue shows a motorcycle and auto near the resort town of Opatia. The 50-d yellow and brown pictures an auto in Belgrade. The 70-d green reveals a car at Triglav, highest point of the Yugoslav Alps.

THE LAST of Japan's tourist series depicts the Kintai Bridge, long famous for its wooden arches. The bridges was washed away during a flood in 1950 but has since been rebuilt on the same site. The 10-yen brown adhesive shows the bridge as it appeared formerly. The 24-yen blue shows it as it is today.

Blood Clot Takes Life Of Fiery Sen. Charles W. Tobey

WASHINGTON (AP)—A blood clot in his heart took the life of Sen. Charles W. Tobey, the fiery New Hampshire Republican who used a ready store of Bible quotations to fight crime or anything else he opposed.

Last night, just two days after his 73rd birthday, Tobey died at the nearby Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital of coronary thrombosis. He had suffered an attack in his office yesterday afternoon.

"There will never be another Sen. Tobey," said Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who headed the Crime Investigating Committee on which Tobey served.

Wipes Out GOP Margin
The death wipes out the Republican majority in the Senate, but New Hampshire's Gov. Hugh Gregg, a Republican, is expected to name a Republican to fill the vacancy. The Senate lineup now stands: 47 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Independent, Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Tobey's green eyeshade, to protect him against the glare of television lights—and his way of dressing down accused racketeers with words from the Bible and the classics—were almost a trademark of the Kefauver Committee's 1951 investigations.

Could Be Harsh
The committee dug into big-time gambling, underworld alliances and vice conditions in cities from coast to coast.

The peppery senator could be harsh if he felt the occasion demanded. He once told a railroad executive to "cut out the bunk" and another time denounced "fat and sleek lobbyists with round heads and round bottoms."

Or he could shut off an acrimonious exchange between his colleagues with an out-of-this-world question, as he did once in a debate over price controls by demanding:

"Who killed cock robin?"
Wife Was With Him
He insisted on voting his own convictions, regardless of his party's stand.

When the Republicans took over control of Congress this year, Tobey continued his crime-busting investigations as head of a commerce subcommittee looking into waterfront racketeering.

The group held extensive hearings on the situation on the New York-New Jersey waterfront and Tobey was planning to broaden its scope to other big port cities.

His wife, the former Mrs. Lillian Crompton, was with him when he died.

Married Three Times
There was no immediate word as to funeral arrangements.

His other survivors include four children—Russell, Charles, Mrs. T. A. Munson of Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. Sterling Dean of Washington, D. C.

Tobey, born July 22, 1880, at Roxbury, Mass., was married three times.

His four children were born of his first marriage, on June 2, 1902, to Francisella M. Lovett of Boston. She died in August 1947.

On May 26, 1948, Tobey married Mrs. Loretta Capell Radenhorst of Washington, D. C. widow and retired school teacher with three sons.

His second wife died in 1951, and he married the former Mrs. Crompton, widow of a Philadelphia leather executive, on Sept. 20, 1952.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Bond Sales High In Quarter: Adams contractors purchased more than one-half of their July quota of "B" bonds during the first quarter of the month, the Third Federal Reserve District has informed Edmund W. Thomas, county chairman.

Purchases during the first week of the month totaled $70,021 against the monthly quota of $115,699, one of the highest quarters since the inception of war bonds.

York Springs topped every other district in the county in the purchases during the quarter, the first time that upper county community led the list since the war started.

Purchases from that community totaled $29,831, exceeding Gettysburg's purchases of $21,876 by $8,055. Biglerville was third with $6,566.

Major Rice On Duty Overseas

Major John S. Rice, W. Broadway, serving with the Army Air Corps at Presque Isle, Maine, for more than a year, has been transferred overseas, according to word received by The Gettysburg Times today.

His new assignment takes him to a foreign air base where he has been made executive officer. Mrs. Rice and daughter, Ellen Frances, will remain at Presque Isle for the present. They have been with Major Rice since his assignment to the post in Maine.

Sgt. "Bud" Zinn Wounded; Gets Purple Heart

Sgt. Zinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Zinn, Hanover St., has been wounded action in the North African War Theater, and has been awarded the Purple Heart medal. It is disclosed in letters which were received Wednesday by members of his family.

Young Zinn, who serves with a field artillery service battalion in the 9th Division under General George S. Patton Jr., now U. S. tank commander in Sicily, may have received his wounds in the Stilian invasion, the family said.

Knouse Agains Heads Board

M. R. Knouse has been re-named president of the board of directors of the Ardenville Vocational School. It was announced today, while Luther M. Ledy has been re-elected vice president; Lawrence E. Myers, secretary and Roy Heckenluber, treasurer.

L. L. Livesay Is Wed In Texas

Word has been received here of the wedding on Sunday evening, July 11, in Dallas, Texas, of L. Robert Groves Livesay, of Gettysburg, now serving with the U. S. Air Force, and Miss Gloria Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kenneth Bailey, of Dallas.

L. L. Livesay, who is a graduate of Gettysburg High School and a former student at Gettysburg College, is a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Livesay, of Mount Clair, W. Va., and a nephew of Mrs. Franklin R. Bigham, W. Broadway. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at the college here.

He entered the service in January 1942 and in December of that year he was commissioned in the Air Corps. He is attached to the 5th Ferry Group.

In Charge Of New Hospital

Major Edgar A. Miller, Baltimore St., has been placed in charge of the new station hospital at New Cumberland Army Reception Center. Col. William A. Fuhrer, commander of the center, announced it.

Major Miller, who is post surgeon, has a staff of seven officers serving under him at the hospital made up of 25 separate buildings linked by corridors. The hospital will serve military personnel of the reception center, Quartermaster Depot, New Cumberland Air Base and Military Police detachment at Harrisburg. The patients formerly were sent to the hospital at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Mussolini Quits: By The Associated Press

In a royal proclamation broadcast to Italians today, the king of Italy announced that he had accepted Mussolini's resignation and had installed 71-year-old Marshal Pietro Badoglio—over 60 of 11 Duce and Fascism—as head of a military government who stands against those who have wounded the sacred soil of Italy.

"The war continues," the aged marshal told the people in a proclamation announcing that he had assumed supreme command of all Italian armies and calling on Italians to rally around the king.

But the conviction grew that Italy—her cities shattered, her empire vanished, internal unrest and violence growing, and a mighty Allied Army pounding at her threshold—had shaken the "guilty hierarchy" of Fascism and had taken a necessary step toward eventual peace.

Mussolini was reported the captive of the new Italian Government today, following the crash of his 21-year dictatorship, which threatened to topple Italy out of the war and the Axis.

Local Men Receive Commissions

Two Gettysburg men will receive commissions as lieutenants in the U. S. Army Air Corps at graduation exercises to be held at different camps Thursday. Both are pilots.

Fred R. Troxell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Troxell, Baltimore St., and Harvey J. Yings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Yings, S. Washington St., have both completed the necessary training for their commissions.

Troxell graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1936 and attended Tark College for three and one-half years. He enlisted in the Air Corps on November 19, 1942. His first training was received at Keesler Field, Miss. He received an appointment as an aviation cadet and was given pre-flight training at San Antonio, Texas. His primary training was received at Spartan Air School, Tulsa, Okla. and his basic training at Independence, Kansas. He received his advanced training at the Army Air Force Advanced Flying School, Eagle Pass, Texas, from where he will graduate Thursday.

ANCESTRY

My great-grandfather to me was just a name. Of him, his son was all I ever knew. Then to his care in time my father came. And mother was the one he chose to woo.

Her father's father long before had gone. To join with all I was not born to know. Death comes, but still the family lives on. And will until the last of us must go.

What hopes had they who lie so far behind? What dreams had they for us they'd never seen? Mothers and fathers, gentle, gracious, kind, Who lived and loved that we might some day be.

SPIRIT

Break a man's spirit and you break him. Take a baseball team, a city organization, or a nation as a whole—if each is inspired with spirit there is nothing but triumphs all along the way. That was a very appropriate name that Colonel Lindbergh gave to the plane that carried him non-stop from New York to Paris—"The Spirit of St. Louis."

With an inspired spirit a person is constantly excelling himself! One of the great Gods of the Indians was "The Great Spirit." Spirit in a person is his exalted soul. Something quite apart from his mere bodily frame.

We hear a great deal about college spirit. Every boy and girl is inspired by it. If they get it early it keeps growing and becomes a part of them, of the faculty as well, and it dominates the town in which that college is located. You feel the atmosphere as soon as you contact those who make up such a college and such a town.

Chicago has been called the "I WILL" city. An apt name, for there is a spirit there among its business men and enterprises that lifts anyone who has ever lived there. A progressive city is one with spirit and determination. Let that fall and the city, or the individual, slips backward. Even in a horse it's the spirited one that wins races!

Youth is full of spirit. Never should it be discouraged. Never should that great possession be disturbed. It is tragic to see the spirit of a child damaged early. Often it has meant failure in later life. There is an old saying, "Keep your chin up." It's the same as saying, "Keep your spirit up."

Never say die. "Don't die on third"—keep your eye on home plate. Ever note how an entire baseball team takes on new spirit the moment a ball is hit into the stands for a home run? Get the spirit into your blood and keep it there!

War In Korea Strengthened UN And Bolstered Smaller Nations Against Further Red Assaults

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a Korean truce apparently very close, what benefits did the United States get from three years of fighting? At the moment these seem to be the positive benefits:

1. The Communists' first post-war aggression was stopped and the South Korean Republic was saved from them.
 2. The United Nations, of which the United States is the main supporter, met its first big challenge: Could the members act together to stop aggression? They could and did.
 3. The shock of the Korean invasion pushed the Western world into a big re-armament and closer alliance, thus making it a tougher target for bigger attack later, if the Communists planned one.
 4. Small countries, seeing the U. N. rush to Korea's rescue, were heartened to withstand any future pressures and threats from the Communists.
- Summed up, this was the net effect of the four benefits:
- The United States, because of its re-arming, is in better shape to handle Russia, if it has to, than it was before Korea. Communist expansion, for those three years at least, was stopped cold.
- Yet, these benefits which seem so obvious and real now, may in the end prove to have been illusory and temporary. The whole re-enlisted in August, 1940 and was inducted with that group into the army in February, 1941. He was stationed at Indiantown Gap and at several camps throughout the south before receiving an appointment as an aviation cadet. His training as a pilot was received in Texas; Enid, Oklahoma and at Frederick Air Field, Frederick, Oklahoma, where he will graduate Thursday.

Scouts Enjoy 66-Mile Trip by Foot, Rail

Eighteen members of Troops 77 and 78, local Boy Scout troops, spent Tuesday on a 66-mile hiking and train trip in which they inspected and had explained to them a half dozen businesses and points of interest. Jack Cassina, scoutmaster for Troop 77, and Ed Kerrigan, scoutmaster for Troop 78, were in charge of the boys who hiked 16 miles and traveled 50 miles by rail.

The scouts who made the trip on the Reading Railroad, leaving the train to visit sites of interest in the Boiling Springs area, included Samuel and Francis Becker, Joseph Redding, William Rosensteel, Joseph Seimour, Joseph Part, Raymond Carter, Charles Small, Keith and Arthur Clapsaddle, Kilmor Mitchell, William Snyder, William Bushman, William Swaley, Bruce Westerdahl, Samuel Solienberger, Charles Kitzmiller and Donald Utz.

Official Says Strike Looms

NEW YORK (AP)—An official of the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers Union says about 5,000 workers in 113 Pennsylvania dress-making plants should receive a 6 per cent wage boost in their next paycheck.

If they don't, said Vice President David Gindoff, the workers will quit.

Gindoff predicted yesterday that many of the plants will pay the boosts, which he said are provided for under new contracts negotiated with New York jobbers for which the Pennsylvania plants make dresses.

Others may not pay them, he said. Gindoff also stated that most garment workers in Pennsylvania now are on a 35-hour week and he predicted that wage increase issues will be ironed out next week. Dressmakers now average about $1.80 to $1.70 an hour.

The union official said a settlement is expected early next week in a dispute over an 8 per cent pay increase for about 2,500 blouse makers now idle at some 60 Pennsylvania blouse plants. Fifteen other such plants already have the

Threat From China

And China, with time to grow stronger economically and militarily after a truce, may be able to terrorize the rest of Asia into submission without the necessity of direct military attack.

The Western Allies, through fatigue, economic entanglements with the Communist bloc, or disagreements with the United States, may grow soft toward Moscow and move closer to it than before Korea.

A severe depression in Western Europe, for instance, would be a supreme test of each country's ability to resist Communist pressure, internally and externally.

The people of the United States, long tired of the Korean War, later on may be reluctant—to the point of being too late—to move against new Communist aggression elsewhere.

Coopers Meet The Pope

Pope Pius XII chats with actor Gary Cooper as Mrs. Cooper kisses the Pontiff's ring and the couple's daughter, Maria, 15, stands by with downcast eyes during a Vatican audience for tourists and pilgrims.

Cooper's Disappointment

He, too, had shared the same trials but he felt he had found an answer.

"Stereos — it is wonderful! Now let me direct your attention to the slickest camera on the market, with an answer for every one of the objections you mentioned."

"The View-Master personal stereo camera is built right view up. It's fixed focus. Film winds and cocks shutter with one operation, so no double exposures. It has a foolproof exposure indicator. It is economical because you get 37 exposures on the normal 200 exposure roll of 35mm film (69 on the 35 exposure roll)."

"It has a decidedly clever rangefinder on the flashgun which indicates correct exposure with flash. Storage of pictures is less of a problem with 300 pictures occupying only 3x3x3 inches."

"Mounting can be done yourself with a precision cutter and a foolproof system, so you can see your finished results sooner. I mounted 200 pictures after a vacation trip in one evening!"

"I probably sound more enthusiastic than an authorized representative but I've had more fun and enjoyment from the pictures

RECENTLY I wrote a column about a currently popular stereo camera and noted some of the mistakes I made when I used it personally. I found the bottom viewfinder and left-hand release button unhandy, made double exposures, got overlapping frames and jiggled the focusing wheel in handling the camera. Despite these stumbling blocks, it opened a new picture world and another stereo fan was born.

My experience provoked a letter from a friend, Gordon Kuster, director of photography at the

Says U. S. Concerned About So. Americans

DIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower said yesterday that although there is a "limit to the burden one nation can bear," the United States is as concerned as ever with the development of other countries in the Western Hemisphere.

Eisenhower is nearing the end of a 36-day fact-finding tour of 10 Latin American countries which brother, President Eisenhower, had requested.

The visitor told newsmen here the "United States is just as concerned as ever in the development of the economies and productive resources of the nations of this hemisphere." He emphasized that the "stabilization of the economy of the United States is of interest to South America—and all other countries who wish to remain free."

that I've gotten from salon and prize-winning regular prints.

"Why don't you handle it yourself and see?"

SUCH ENTHUSIASM, in my stage of infection, proved easily contagious. I got on the trail and borrowed an outfit for testing purposes.

I shot a couple of rolls of daylight type color film both outdoors and with blue flash bulbs, indoors. Four days after I sent off the film to be processed, it was returned intact, as per directions. Following the instruction book, which came with the film cutter, I had the pictures mounted in View-Master reels by noon. The results were good enough to back up my Ohioan friend's claims.

The special feature of the camera is that the results are viewed in the inexpensive stereo viewer that shows seven different pictures on one reel which has been so popular with children these past several years. The frames are much smaller — each measures 12mm x 13mm — than the presently considered standard, which is 23mm x 24mm. That is why you get almost twice as many pictures on a roll of film.

The camera has a fixed focus 3.5 lens so you don't have to set any distance scales. Under average, sunny-day shooting (which is 1:50 at f:6.3) everything is automatically in focus from 7 1/2 feet to infinity. The shutter has a range of speeds from 1/10 of a second to 1/100 of a second as well as a Bulb exposure. When you have determined the speed you wish to shoot at, the diaphragm opening (from f:5.5 to f:16) can be automatically set merely by adjusting to the lighting conditions under which you are shooting. All instructions are imprinted on the camera body for ready reference and constant reminding.

The flash gun feature is unique. A dial is set to the guide number of the bulb you are using. Then you adjust the flash rangefinder to your principal subject.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Bond Sales High In Quarter: Adams countrypurchasers more than one-half of their July quota of "E" bonds during the first quarter of the month, the Third Federal Reserve District has informed Edmund W. Thomas, county chairman.

Purchases during the first week of the month totaled $70,031 against the monthly quota of $115,699, one of the highest quarters since the inception of war bonds.

York Springs topped every other district in the county in the purchases during the quarter, the first time that upper county community led the list since the war started.

Purchases from that community totaled $29,831, exceeding Gettysburg's purchases of $21,806 by $8,025. Biglerville was third with $6,506.

Major Rice On Duty Overseas: Major John S. Rice, W. Broadway, serving with the Army Air Corps at Presque Isle, Maine, for more than a year, has been transferred overseas, according to word received by The Gettysburg Times today.

His new assignment takes him to a foreign air base where he has been made executive officer. Mrs. Rice and daughter, Ellen Frances, will remain at Presque Isle for the present. They have been with Major Rice since his assignment to the post in Maine.

Sgt. "Bud" Zinn Wounded; Gets Purple Heart: Sgt. Merville E. "Bud" Zinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Zinn, Hanover St., has been wounded action in the North African War Theater, and has been awarded the Purple Heart medal, it is disclosed in letters which were received Wednesday by members of his family.

Young Zinn, who serves with a field artillery service battalion in the 9th Division under General George S. Patton Jr., now U. S. tank commander in Sicily, may have received his wounds in the Sicilian invasion, the family said.

Knouse Again Heads Board: M. E. Knouse has been re-named president of the board of directors of the Arendtsville Vocational School, it was announced today, while Luther M. Lady has been re-elected vice president; Lawrence E. Myers, secretary and Roy Heckenluber, treasurer.

L. Livesay Is Wed In Texas: Word has been received here of the wedding on Sunday evening, July 11, in Dallas, Texas, of Lt. Robert Groves Livesay, of Gettysburg, now serving with the U. S. Air Force, and Miss Gloria Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kenneth Bailey, of Dallas.

Lt. Livesay, who is a graduate of Gettysburg High School and a former student at Gettysburg College, is a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Livesay, of Mount Clair, W. Va., and a nephew of Mrs. Franklin R. Bigham, W. Broadway. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at the college here.

He entered the service in January 1942 and in December of that year he was commissioned in the Air Corps. He is attached to the 5th Ferry Group.

In Charge Of New Hospital: Major Edgar A. Miller, Baltimore St., has been placed in charge of the new station hospital at New Cumberland Army Reception Center, Lt. Col. William A. Fulmer, commander of the center, announced.

Major Miller, who is post surgeon, has a staff of seven officers serving under him at the hospital made up of 25 separate buildings linked by corridors. The hospital will serve military personnel of the reception center, Quartermaster Depot, New Cumberland Air Base and Military Police detachment at Harrisburg. The patients formerly were sent to the hospital at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Mussolini Quits: By The Associated Press—In a royal proclamation broadcast to Italians today, the king of Italy announced that he had accepted Mussolini's "resignation" and had installed 71-year-old Marshal Pietro Badoglio—bitter foe of Il Duce and Fascism—as head of a military government "to stand against those who have wounded the sacred soil of Italy."

"The war continues," the aged marshal told the people in a proclamation announcing that he had assumed supreme command of all Italian armies and calling on Italians to rally around the king.

But the conviction grew that Italy—her cities shattered, her empire vanished, internal unrest and violence growing, and a mighty Allied Army pounding at her threshold—had shaken the "guilty hierarchy" of Fascism and had taken a necessary step toward eventual peace.

Mussolini was reported the captive of the new Italian Government today, following the crash of his 21-year dictatorship, which threatened to topple Italy out of the war and the Axis.

Local Men Receive Commissions: Two Gettysburg men will receive commissions as lieutenants in the U. S. Army Air Corps at graduating exercises to be held at different camps Thursday. Both are pilots.

Fred R. Troxell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Troxell, Baltimore St., and Harvey J. Yingst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Yingst, S. Washington St., have both completed the necessary training for their commissions.

Troxell graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1936 and attended Thiel College for three and one-half years. He enlisted in the Air Corps on November 19, 1942. His first training was received at Keesler Field, Miss. He received an appointment as an aviation cadet and was given pre-flight training at San Antonio, Texas. His primary training was received at Spangar Air School, Tulsa, Okla., and his basic training at Independence, Kansas. He received his advanced training at the Army Air Force Advanced Flying School, Eagle Pass, Texas, from where he will graduate Thursday.

Yingst, who attended the Gettysburg parochial schools, worked for the Asplundh Tree Expert Co. for two and a half years after having been employed by the Gettysburg Furniture Company. After serving a three-year enlistment in the Gettysburg National Guard unit, he

My great-grandfather to me was just a name.

Of him, his son was all I ever knew.

Then to his care in time my father came.

And mother was the one he chose to woo.

Her father's father long before had gone.

To join with all I was not born to know.

Death comes, but still the family lives on.

And will until the last of us must go.

What hopes had they who lie so far behind?

What dreams had they for us they'd never see?

Mothers and fathers, gentle gracious, kind,

Who lived and loved that we might some day be.

SPIRIT
Break a man's spirit and you break him. Take a baseball team, a city organization, or a nation as a whole—if each is inspired with spirit there is nothing but triumphs all along the way. That was a very appropriate name that Colonel Lindbergh gave to the plane that carried him non-stop from New York to Paris—"The Spirit of St. Louis."

With an inspired spirit a person is constantly excelling himself! One of the great gods of the Indians was "The Great Spirit." Spirit in a person is his exalted soul. Something quite apart from his mere bodily frame.

We hear a great deal about college spirit. Every boy and girl is inspired by it. If they get it early it keeps growing and becomes a part of them, of the faculty as well, and it dominates the town in which that college is located. You feel the atmosphere as soon as you contact those who make up such a college and such a town.

Chicago has been called the "I WILL" city. An apt name, for there is a spirit there among its business men and enterprises that lifts anyone who has ever lived there. A progressive city is one with spirit and determination. Let that fail and the city, or the individual, slips backward. Even in a horse it's the spirited one that wins races!

Youth is full of spirit. Never should it be discouraged. Never should that great possession be disturbed. It is tragic to see the spirit of a child damaged early. Often it has meant failure in later life. There is an old saying, "Keep your chin up." It's the same as saying, "Keep your spirit up."

Never say die. "Don't die on third"—keep your eye on home plate. Ever note how an entire baseball team takes on new spirit the moment a ball is hit into the stands for a home run? Get the spirit into your blood and keep it there!

the sacred soil of Italy."

"The war continues," the aged marshal told the people in a proclamation announcing that he had assumed supreme command of all Italian armies and calling on Italians to rally around the king.

But the conviction grew that Italy—her cities shattered, her empire vanished, internal unrest and violence growing, and a mighty Allied Army pounding at her threshold—had shaken the "guilty hierarchy" of Fascism and had taken a necessary step toward eventual peace.

Mussolini was reported the captive of the new Italian Government today, following the crash of his 21-year dictatorship, which threatened to topple Italy out of the war and the Axis.

Local Men Receive Commissions: Two Gettysburg men will receive commissions as lieutenants in the U. S. Army Air Corps at graduating exercises to be held at different camps Thursday. Both are pilots.

Fred R. Troxell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Troxell, Baltimore St., and Harvey J. Yingst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Yingst, S. Washington St., have both completed the necessary training for their commissions.

Troxell graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1936 and attended Thiel College for three and one-half years. He enlisted in the Air Corps on November 19, 1942. His first training was received at Keesler Field, Miss. He received an appointment as an aviation cadet and was given pre-flight training at San Antonio, Texas. His primary training was received at Spangar Air School, Tulsa, Okla., and his basic training at Independence, Kansas. He received his advanced training at the Army Air Force Advanced Flying School, Eagle Pass, Texas, from where he will graduate Thursday.

Yingst, who attended the Gettysburg parochial schools, worked for the Asplundh Tree Expert Co. for two and a half years after having been employed by the Gettysburg Furniture Company. After serving a three-year enlistment in the Gettysburg National Guard unit, he

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—With a Korean truce apparently very close, what benefits did the United States get from three years of fighting?

At the moment these seem to be the positive benefits:

1. The Communists' first post-war aggression was stopped and the South Korean Republic was saved from them.

2. The United Nations, of which the United States is the main supporter, met its first big challenge: Could the members act together to stop aggression? They could and did.

3. The shock of the Korean invasion pushed the Western world into a big re-armament and closer alliance, thus making it a tougher target for bigger attack later, if the Communists planned one.

4. Small countries, seeing the U. N. rush to Korea's rescue, were heartened to withstand any future pressures and threats from the Communists.

Summed up, this was the net effect of the four benefits:

The United States, because of its re-arming, is in better shape to handle Russia, if it has to, than it was before Korea. Communist expansion, for those three years at least, was stopped cold.

Yet, these benefits which seem so obvious and real now, may in the end prove to have been illusory and temporary. The whole re-enlisted in August, 1940 and was inducted with that group into the army in February, 1941. He was stationed at Indiantown Gap and at several camps throughout the south before receiving an appointment as an aviation cadet. His training as a pilot was received in Texas; Enid, Oklahoma and at Frederick Air Field, Frederick, Oklahoma, where he will graduate Thursday.

P. O. EMPLOYEES FREE ON BAIL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two Philadelphia postal employees are free under $500 bond today pending federal grand jury action on charges of numbers writing. Six other employees arrested on lottery charges have been freed.

The two men free under bond were identified yesterday as William G. Efler and Howard Levin. U. S. Commissioner Henry P. Carr said that another worker was fined $50 for having in his possession a number of cartoons of cigarettes which lacked a Pennsylvania stamp.

Carr said the six men he released after arraignment yesterday were involved in local office pools and chance-selling for social organizations.

Meanwhile, the Post Office Department in Washington announced yesterday that Postmaster General Summerfield has advised all postal employees against involvement in baseball pools and lottery activities.

OFFICIAL SAYS STRIKE LOOMS

NEW YORK (AP)—An official of the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers Union says about 5,000 workers in 113 Pennsylvania dress-making plants should receive a 6 per cent wage boost in their next paycheck.

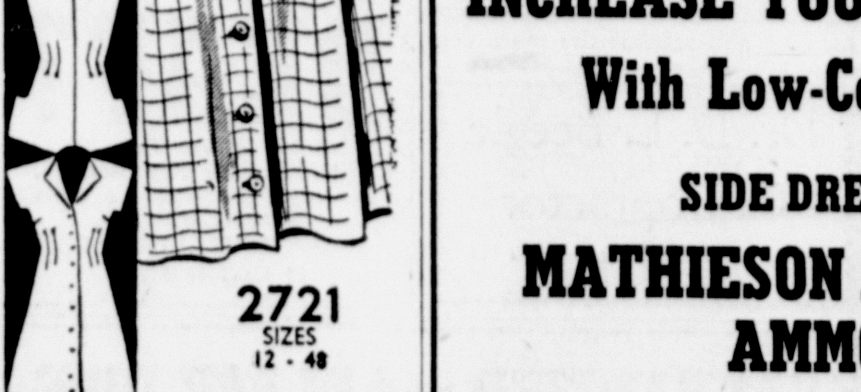

If they don't, said Vice President David Gingold, the workers will quit.

Gingold predicted yesterday that many of the plants will pay the boosts, which he said are provided for under new contracts negotiated with New York jobbers for which the Pennsylvania plants make dresses.

Others may not pay them, he said. Gingold also stated that most garment workers in Pennsylvania now are on a 35-hour week and he predicted that wage increase issues will be ironed out next week. Dressmakers now average about $1.50 to $1.70 an hour.

The union official said a settlement is expected early next week in a dispute over an 8 per cent pay increase for about 2,500 blouse makers now idle at some 60 Pennsylvania blouse plants. Fifteen other such plants already have the

Says U. S. Concerned About So. Americans

DIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower said yesterday that although there is a "limit to the burden one nation can bear," the United States is as concerned as ever with the development of other countries in the Western Hemisphere.

Eisenhower is nearing the end of a 36-day fact-finding tour of 10 Latin American countries which brother, President Eisenhower, had requested.

The visitor told newsmen here the "United States is just as concerned as ever in the development of the economies and productive resources of the nations of this hemisphere." He emphasized that the "stabilization of the economy of the United States is of interest to South America—and all other countries who wish to remain free."

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR
The Associated Press

RECENTLY I wrote a column about a currently popular stereo camera and noted some of the mistakes I made when I used it personally. I found the bottom viewfinder and left-hand release button unhandy, made double exposures, got overlapping frames and jiggled the focusing wheel in handling the camera. Despite these stumbling blocks, it opened a new picture world and another stereo fan was born.

My experience provoked a letter from a friend, Gordon Kuster, director of photography at the boost in effect, he said, and their 1,000 employees are back at work.

"Why don't you handle it yourself and see?"

SUCH ENTHUSIASM, in my stage of infection, proved easily contagious. I got on the trail and borrowed an outfit for testing purposes.

I shot a couple of rolls of daylight type color film both outdoors and, with blue flash bulbs, indoors. Four days after I sent off the film to be processed, it was returned uncut, as per directions. Following the instruction book, which came with the film cutter, I had the pictures mounted in View-Master reels by noontime. The results were good enough to back up my Ohlson friend's claims.

The special feature of the camera is that the results are viewed in the inexpensive stereo viewer that shows seven different pictures on one reel which has been so popular with children these past several years. The frames are much smaller — each measures 12mm x 13mm — than the presently considered standard, which is 23mm x 24mm. That is why you get almost twice as many pictures on a roll of film.

The camera has a fixed focus f3.5 lens so you don't have to set any distance scales. Under average, sunny-day shooting (which is 1/50 at f6.3) everything is automatically in focus from 7 1/2 feet to infinity. The shutter has a range of speeds from 1/10 of a second to 1/100 of a second as well as a Bulb exposure. When you have determined the speed you wish to shoot at, the diaphragm opening (from f3.5 to f16) can be automatically set merely by adjusting the lighting conditions under which you are shooting. All instructions are imprinted on the camera body for ready reference and constant reminding.

The flash gun feature is unique. A dial is set to the guide number of the bulb you are using. Then you adjust the flash rangefinder to your principal subject.

Red Sox Step Into Pennant Picture As Yanks, Chicago Bow; Braves Drub Dodgers

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Ted Williams can find the fountain of youth, the Boston Red Sox may yet have to be considered as pennant contenders in the American League.

Certainly the Williams-less Sox are burning up the circuit and, with the New York Yankees continuing to slip, they've moved into third place, only 7½ games behind the stumbling New Yorkers.

Williams comes out of the Marines Aug. 1 and he will be back with his old club shortly after that. In his absence a bunch of youngsters, many of whom were still in grade school when the slugger first donned a Red Sox uniform in 1939, have caught fire.

Since the Fourth of July they've played at an 800 pace. Last night they took a pair from the hapless St. Louis Browns, 8-0 and 6-0, for their 14th and 15th victories in their last 18 games.

Hoofit Throttles Yanks
The league-leading Yankees have looked mighty sad recently and they couldn't do a thing against lefty Billy Hoofit in Detroit last night as they lost their fourth straight, 5-1. Hoofit gave up only three hits and struck out eight.

For the second time this week the second place Chicago White Sox blew a chance to gain ground on the Yankees. Philadelphia caught the Chicagoans in the ninth inning and went on to beat them, 4-2, in 12 frames when Cass Michaels hit a 2-run homer.

Cleveland dropped from third to fourth, eight games behind New York, by losing to Washington, 6-4. In the National League the Milwaukee Braves slipped down the first place Brooklyn Dodgers 11-6, putting the Dodgers lead to 4½ games. Philadelphia edged St. Louis 2-1 on two homers by Granny Hamner. New York defeated Cincinnati, 3-1, and Chicago thumped Pittsburgh 7-1.

Double Shutout
Billy Henry and Maury McDermott handcuffed the Browns for Boston in the twilight affair at St. Louis. Henry gave up seven hits in winning his second game since being recalled from the minors. Tom Umphlett slammed a 3-run homer in the first game, one of the three hit in the five American League games last night.

The other two circuit blows were the big one by Michaels that broke up the marathon in Chicago and a 3-run blast by big Walt Drogo that gave the Tigers a lead they never relinquished against New York.

Michaels also contributed a single to a ninth inning Philadelphia rally that tied the game in Chicago. Three other singles and an error produced two runs. The White Sox loaded the bases in the 11th but ancient Bobo Newsom came in to retire the side and stayed through the 12th to win his first game of the season. Billy Pierce, who struck out 12 men, suffered his seventh loss. Pierce has 109 strikeouts for the year, tops in the league.

After Drogo's home run Detroit added one tally in the sixth on a double by Johnny Pesky plus a sacrifice and Jim Delving's single. Singles by Delving and Ray Boone put runners on base in the eighth and one man came home on a passed ball and throwing error by Yogi Berra. The Yanks got their run in the seventh on singles by Berra and Hank Bauer and an infield out. The only other New York hit was a double by Bauer.

Art Houtteman, who hasn't had much better luck with Cleveland than he did with Detroit, gave up a 2-run triple to Mickey Vernon in the first inning and the Indians never caught up.

Milwaukee poured it on the Dodgers, running the score to 11-1 before the league leaders made a 4-run stand in the eighth. Eddie Mathews hit his 30th home run with one on in the fifth and Walker Cooper homered with two on in the same inning when the Braves scored seven runs—the most any club has scored in an inning against Brooklyn this year.

Hamner Big Gun
The Cards-Phillies contest was a real battle with Harvey Haddix of the Cards making the mistake of giving Hamner two good pitches. Granny parked one in the second inning and again in the last of the ninth. The St. Louis run was scored in the sixth when Stan Musial walked, moved up on an error and a wild pitch and then stole home.

Ralph Kiner led a 9-hit Chicago attack against his old Pittsburgh teammates with three singles. Six of the Cubs' seven runs came in the third inning on only two hits. They were aided by an error, four walks, a wild pitch, a passed ball and two sacrifices.

Approve Site For Air Force Depot

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee has again approved Hammon, N. J., as the site for an Air Force maintenance depot.

The committee, acting on a subcommittee recommendation, yesterday approved $747,000 for land acquisition. Last year the House also approved Hammon as the site and authorized $73,523,000 for land acquisition and construction.

The money, however, was knocked out of an overall military construction bill in the Senate.

The base was originally planned for Lancaster County, Pa., but was opposed by farmers of the area.

Largest Crowd Sees Speedway Auto Races

Junie Taylor, Lancaster, won the feature race during the third stock car racing program held Friday evening at the Lincoln Speedway near Abbotstown.

The largest crowd of the season, about 10,000, attended the races. Heat winners were: First, Walt Ragan, Rising Sun, Md.; second, Freddie Ragan, brother of Walt Ragan, Rising Sun; third, Fred Jones, York; Stan Zelick, Conewago, won the consolation race.

A powder-puff derby for ladies was held and entrants finished as follows: first, Betty Scaroune; second, Jean Greenstaff; third, Evelyn Klunk; fourth, Betty Schroeder; fifth, Becky Rife.

GARRISON IN HERSHEY LEAD

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—An

Garrison, a fellow who has never won a major golf tournament although he's been trying for years, was in front of the pack today as 69 golfers headed into the last 36 holes of the 15th Pennsylvania Public Links Championship.

The 35-year-old Hershey resident led off three strokes over two other Hershey park golfers at the halfway point of the annual test for the state's spare-time public course players.

Believed to be the only president of the sponsoring State Public Golfers Association to take medals in honor while in office, Garrison's one under par 70 gave him a 72-70-142 total for 36 holes, just ahead of his brother, Paul, and Sirio Startoni.

Garrison, a draftsman, was making his 14th try for the individual trophy in the Public Links. He's been near the top many times but the best he ever did was second in 1942. Last year he finished in a three-way tie for third.

Three others completed the first half of the three-day tourney with scores of 150 or better. Hershey Park's Johnny Lucane, only former winner back this year and leader after the first round, dropped to a five over par 76 for a 147 total. Tied with him was Dominic Foscone, Manor Golf Club, Sinking Springs.

Andy Vorkic, Sharon, and Clair Benz, Hershey, followed with 149 and 150.

Reporter Doesn't Believe In Extravagant Love Of Pets And Also Resents Neglecting Them

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—They used to say every dog has his day. But today the dog is enjoying his century.

Many a family today that can't figure how to send the kids to a university will raise the dog somehow to see that Bowser gets a college education. The kids themselves help raise the money. As wise teen-ear-old children themselves they are cynical of discipline, but they think a teen-moth dog needs to learn a few tricks to help him through life.

The Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals says that many people at vacation time abandon their pets, which in New York State is a misdemeanor and some folks think ought to be felony.

Detests Idolatry

I think they are right. I detest the idolatry of pets, a lonesome sickness of our age, because in many cases it means a disappointed person has turned his back on human love to lavish his or her affection on a cat or dog. That is a cancer of the soul, and it is unhealthy.

But this extravagant love of animals that may be abnormal in grownups is deperately normal in children, who need to express fondness as a cow must give milk. Adults fiddle, refuse and direct them—these children.

As they are only little adults themselves, and in time will at least be physically larger animals, the children need a target, too, to kiss and boss and quarrel with. For this purpose a dog or a cat is better than a doll or a dream playmate because it is more responsive.

Child Expresses Emotions

A pet helps a child imitate and express the same emotions that his parents feel toward him, and thereby the child matures into reality.

UN Warplanes Strike Through Bad Weather

SEOUL, July 25 (AP)—United Nations warplanes, carrying blustery weather, relentlessly bombed Communist "roofs" and supply lines in North Korea today in what could be the turning point of 37 months of war on the devastated peninsula.

While 5th Air Force bombers and fighters hammered the Reds with one million rounds of bombs, shooting starbursts and tension rose from parts of the battlefield.

Only a few trucks took to the road. There, Chinese Reds—attacking with their usual disregard of casualties—stormed the slopes of three hill positions defended by American Marines.

FEARS UMPIRES PUT ON TV ACT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Manager Steve O'Neill of the Philadelphia Phillies has voiced suspicion that umpires grandstand for the benefit of TV audiences.

O'Neill, who causes the men in blue as little trouble as any major league pilot, said at the Phillies' weekly luncheon yesterday he sometimes thinks umpires would rather call players "out" than "safe."

"Especially in these days of TV," said Steve. "It gives them more opportunity to get into the spotlight."

"When they call a man 'out,' they wave their arms, jerk their thumbs and put on a show. When they call a man 'safe' it's a simple gesture of punting their arms down."

Boys And Dogs

That boys and dogs belong to each other is seldom denied. In fact it is often attested to. In an advertisement in the Detroit Free Press, for instance, the father of a boy whose pet dachshund had been stolen asked the thief either to return the dog or come and get the child—"because they belong together."

But sometimes a boy or a dog can lead the other into trouble. In Camden, New Jersey, for instance, Mrs. Percy Mole had been carrying in her apron pocket a roll of ten and twenty dollar bills with which she intended to pay for a new kitchen range.

On the evening of December 19, while washing the supper dishes, she laid the roll of money, tightly bound with a rubber band, on the kitchen table. Suddenly faint with a headache, she went into the bedroom to lie down. When she returned the money was gone.

Her twelve-year-old grandson, James Gunson, had been playing in the kitchen with their cocker spaniel, Yankee. Questioned about the money, James told a vague story of having seen it roll off the table and down the cellar stairs.

He paid little attention, he said, because he didn't realize what it was.

Red Sox Step Into Pennant Picture As Yanks, Chicago Bow; Braves Drub Dodgers

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Ted Williams can find the fountain of youth, the Boston Red Sox may yet have to be considered as pennant contenders in the American League.

Certainly the Williams-less Sox are burning up the circuit and, with the New York Yankees continuing to slip, they've moved into third place, only 7½ games behind the stumbling New Yorkers.

Williams comes out of the Marlin Aug. 1 and he will be back with his old club shortly after that. In his absence a bunch of youngsters, many of whom were still in grade school when the slugger first donned a Red Sox uniform in 1939, have caught fire.

Since the Fourth of July they've played at an 800 pace. Last night they took a pair from the hapless St. Louis Browns, 8-0 and 6-0, for their 14th and 15th victories in their last 18 games.

Hoeft Throttles Yankees
The league-leading Yankees have looked mighty sad recently and they couldn't do a thing against lefty Billy Hoeft in Detroit last night as they lost their fourth straight, 5-1. Hoeft gave up only three hits and struck out eight.

For the second time this week the second place Chicago White Sox blew a chance to gain ground on the Yankees. Philadelphia caught the Chicagoans in the ninth inning and went on to beat them, 4-2, in 12 frames when Cass Michaels hit a 2-run homer.

Cleveland dropped from third to fourth, eight games behind New York, by losing to Washington, 6-4. In the National League the Milwaukee Braves slapped down the first place Brooklyn Dodgers 11-6, putting the Dodgers lead to 4½ games. Philadelphia edged St. Louis 2-1 on two homers by Grady Hamner. New York defeated Cincinnati, 3-1, and Chicago thumped Pittsburgh 7-1.

Double Shutout
Billy Henry and Maury McDermott handcuffed the Browns for Boston in the twilight affair at St. Louis. Henry gave up seven hits in winning his second game since being recalled from the minors. Tom Umpflett slammed a 3-run homer in the first game, one of the three hit in the five American League games last night.

The other two circuit blows were the big one by Michaels that broke up the marathon in Chicago and a 3-run blast by big Walt Dropo that gave the Tigers a lead they never relinquished against New York.

Michaels also contributed a single to a ninth inning Philadelphia rally that tied the game in Chicago. Three other singles and an error produced two runs. The White Sox loaded the bases in the 11th but ancient Bobo Newsom came in to retire the side and stayed through the 12th to win his first game of the season. Billy Pierce, who struck out 12 men, suffered his seventh loss. Pierce has 109 strikeouts for the year, tops in the league.

After Dropo's home run Detroit added one tally in the sixth on a double by Johnny Pesky plus a sacrifice and Jim Delsing's single. Singles by Delsing and Ray Boone put runners on base in the eighth and one man came home on a passed ball and throwing error by Yogi Berra. The Yanks got their run in the seventh on singles by Berra and Hank Bauer and an infield out. The only other New York hit was a double by Bauer.

Art Houtteman, who hasn't had much better luck with Cleveland than he did with Detroit, gave up a 2-run triple to Mickey Vernon in the first inning and the Indians never caught up.

Milwaukee poured it on to the Dodgers, running the score to 11-1 before the league leaders made a 4-run stand in the eighth. Eddie Mathews hit his 30th home run with one on in the fifth and Walker Cooper homered with two on in the same inning when the Braves scored seven runs—the most any club has scored in an inning against Brooklyn this year.

Hammer Big Gun
The Cards-Phillies contest was a real battle with Harvey Haddix of the Cards making the mistake of giving Hammer two good pitches. Grady Hamner parked one in the second inning and again in the last of the ninth. The St. Louis run was scored in the sixth when Stan Musial walked, moved up on an error and a wild pitch and then stole home.

Ralph Kiner led a 9-hit Chicago attack against his old Pittsburgh teammates with three singles. Six of the Cubs' seven runs came in the third inning on only two hits. They were aided by an error, four walks, a wild pitch, a passed ball and two sacrifices.

Approve Site For Air Force Depot
WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee has again approved Hammon, N. J., as the site for an Air Force maintenance depot.

The committee, acting on a subcommittee recommendation, yesterday approved $747,000 for land acquisition. Last year the House also approved Hammon as the site and authorized $73,523,000 for land acquisition and construction.

The money, however, was knocked out of an overall military construction bill in the Senate. The base was originally planned for Lancaster County, Pa., but was opposed by farmers of the area.

Largest Crowd Sees Speedway Auto Races
Junie Taylor, Lancaster, won the feature race during the third stock car racing program held Friday evening at the Lincoln Speedway, near Abbotstown.

The largest crowd of the season, about 10,000, attended the races. Heat winners were: First, Walt Ragan, Rising Sun, Md.; second, Freddie Ragan, brother of Walt Ragan, Rising Sun; third, Fred Jones, York, Stan Zellek, Conewago, won the consolation race.

A powder-puff derby for ladies was held and entrants finished as follows: first, Betty Seacourne; second, Jean Greenstaff; third, Evelyn Klunk; fourth, Betty Schroeder; fifth, Becky Rife.

GARRISON IN HERSHEY LEAD

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Art Garrison, a fellow who has never won a major golf tournament although he's been trying for years, was in front of the pack today as 60 qualifiers headed into the last 36 holes of the 15th Pennsylvania Public Links Championship.

The 35-year-old Hershey resident led by three strokes over two other Hershey park golfers at the halfway point of the annual test for the state's spare-time public course players.

Believed to be the only president of the sponsoring State Public Golfers Association to take medalist honors while in office, Garrison's one under par 70 gave him a 72-70-142 total for 36 holes, just ahead of his brother, Paul, and Sirio Startoni.

Garrison, a draftsman, was making his 14th try for the individual trophy in the Public Links. He's been near the top many times but the best he ever did was second in 1948. Last year he finished in a three-way tie for third.

Three others completed the first half of the three-day tourney with scores of 150 or better. Hershey Park's Johnny Luciani, only former winner back this year and leader after the first round, dropped to a five over par 76 for a 147 total. Tied with him was Dominic Foscone, Manor Golf Club, Sinking Spring.

Andy Voytk, Sharon, and Clair Betz, Hershey, followed with 149 and 150.

Reporter Doesn't Believe In Extravagant Love Of Pets And Also Resents Neglecting Them

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—They used to say every dog has his day. But today the dog is enjoying his century.

Many a family today that can't figure how to send the kids to a university will raise the dog somehow to see that Bowser gets a college education. The kids themselves help raise the money. As wise teen-agers-old children themselves they are cynical of discipline, but they think a teen-month-old dog needs it to learn a few tricks to help him through life.

The Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals says that many people at vacation time abandon their pets, which in New York is a misdemeanor and some folks think ought to be felony.

Detests Idolatry
I think they are right. I detest the idolatry of pets, a lonesome sickness of our age, because in many cases it means a disappointed person has turned his back on human love to lavish his or her affection on a cat or dog. That is a cancer of the soul, and it is unhealthy.

But this extravagant love of animals that may be abnormal in childhood is deperately normal in grownups, who need to express fondness as a cow must give milk. Adults fondle, rebuke and direct them—these children.

As they are only little adults themselves, and in time will at least be physically larger adults later, the children need a target, too, to kiss and boss and quarrel with. For this purpose a dog or a cat is better than a doll or a dream playmate because it is more responsive.

Child Expresses Emotions
A pet helps a child imitate and express the same emotions that its parents feel toward it, and thereby the child matures into responsible.

UN Warplanes Strike Through Bad Weather
SEOUL, July 25 (AP)—United Nations warplanes, defying blustery weather, relentlessly bombed Communist troops and supply lines in North Korea today in what could be the waning hours of 37 months of war on this devastated peninsula.

While 5th Air Force bombers and fighters hammered the Reds with one million pounds of bombs, shooting-slackened and tension rose along parts of the battlefield.

Only near the true tanks site at Panmunjom was the roar of big guns heard in any fury.

There, Chinese Reds—attacking with their usual disregard of casualties—stormed the slopes of three hill positions defended by American Marines.

FEARS UMPIRES PUT ON TV ACT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Manager Steve O'Neill of the Philadelphia Phillies has voiced suspicion that umpires grandstand for the benefit of TV audiences.

O'Neill, who causes the men in blue as little trouble as any major league pilot, said at the Phillies' weekly luncheon yesterday he sometimes thinks umpires would rather call players "out" than "safe."

"Especially in these days of TV," said Steve. "It gives them more opportunity to get into the spotlight."

But when the hot weather came it was decided to clean and disinfect the dog house. And there they found the bills — lightly chewed but still tightly rolled into a reasonable resemblance to a bone.

James was exonerated completely, and Yankee could hardly be blamed. But considering the change in temperature since the money was lost, Mrs. Mole altered her plans. Instead of a range, she bought a refrigerator.

The Moose repeated their 1952 regular season championship of the Softball League by rallying for six runs in the last of the fourth inning to nose out the Texas Lunch 8-6 Friday evening and clinch the 1953 honors.

Final scheduled games are listed Monday evening and regardless of the outcomes, at least one tie is certain for one of the playoff positions, which will delay the opening of the final league championships until at least next Friday. If a triple tie results for second place, a possibility, the opening series will be delayed further.

A homerun and triple by Clarence Bartholomew sparked the Texas Lunch to an early 6-2 lead over the Moose in Friday's opener but the Moose came up with six tallies in the fourth to win and clinch the title. Penn also homered for the lunchmen with a runner on base in the fourth.

The VFW twice overcame leads by the Eagles to take the second game 16-7 and go into a tie with the Glenn L. Bream garage men for second place.

Hawn blazed a three-run homer for the Eagles in the opening inning. Seven runs in the sixth clinched the game for the Vets.

ITALIAN CHIEF OF STATE MAY LOSE HIS OFFICE

ROME 25 — Premier Alcide de Gasperi, Italian government chief for nearly eight years, Friday appeared on the verge of defeat in the forthcoming parliamentary vote of confidence.

The once-powerful coalition of center parties behind his pro-Western government is melting away. If deputies stick to their party's announced lines in the showdown in the lower chamber early next week, his eighth government will be thrown out before it gets started.

Small Party Bolts
The newest blow came early Friday from the small Republican party, which in the past had been an ally of De Gasperi's Christian Democratic party.

Republican leaders announced they had "invited" their five deputies to abstain from voting in the confidence ballot on the new Cabinet's policy.

Earlier the Democratic Socialist party, another member of De Gasperi's 4-party center bloc in the last elections, announced that its 19 deputies also would abstain.

Only the Liberal party still was to be heard from, and its 14 votes would not be enough to give De Gasperi a majority against the combined left and right opposition. De Gasperi would be voted down 267-279, as party plans stand at present.

CONGRESSMEN FLAY PAY BILL AS "SNEAKY"

WASHINGTON 25 — A Senate-passed bill with a potential built-in pay raise for members of Congress was lambasted today by two House members as "sneaky, crooked" and "a backdoor approach."

It was apparent that the bill, passed late Thursday by the Senate with no opposition, debate or fanfare, would have tough sledding in the House.

Republican leader Halleck of Indiana told the House yesterday he hopes the Judiciary Committee will consider the bill next Tuesday and act on it.

"Should Have Courtesy"
Rep. Burdick (R-ND), a member, said it would get out of that committee only over his opposition.

Burdick, who long has claimed that members of Congress are paid enough already, called the Senate proposal "a sneaky, crooked" way to get a pay raise without voting directly on the issue.

He told newsmen he doubted the bill would get serious consideration.

Supporting Burdick's stand, Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) called the bill "a backdoor approach," adding:

"If we want to raise our salaries, we should have courage enough to stand up and vote directly on the issue."

IKE PUT ON SPOT BY THEATER TAX

WASHINGTON 25 — President Eisenhower was put squarely on the spot today by congress' passage of a bill to repeal the 20 per cent tax on movie theater tickets.

If he vetoes it, he will be rejecting a bill which won support of top Republicans, such as acting Senate Leader Knowland of California and Sen. Milliken (R-Colo.), chairman of the conference of all GOP senators.

Knowland, like Vice President Nixon, hails from California, heart of the motion picture industry.

The House and Senate when acted yesterday, passed it by overwhelming voice votes. But neither took a roll call tally to show whether the necessary two-thirds to override a veto could be mustered.

IRRIGATION MOVES EASTWARD

Until only a few years ago the mention of irrigation brought thoughts of desert regions where man and government brought water from mountain lakes and snow-fed rivers to nourish crops in once-parched wastes. But no longer is irrigation confined to rainless regions. It is moving eastward from deserts of the Far West and becoming a vital part of farming practices in regions normally known as humid areas. It is a new form of insurance, not only against prolonged drought, but to supplement rainfall. And it is paying astonishing dividends.

Reports from individual farmers through the Middle West and particularly in Corn Belt states indicate that irrigation is in many instances doubling and tripling corn yields year after year. State agricultural authorities throughout the South where droughts have visited vast regions over the last few years report gains as high as tenfold for irrigated corn over fields left to the rigors of deficient rainfall.

In all cases where large-scale irrigation of field corn, alfalfa, field beans, soybeans, sorghum, oats, and several other feed and cereal crops has been tried, factors are foremost in the calculations. First, there must be a dependable source of water near the field. This may be an unfailing creek or pond, spring or well. Second, the farmer must have ample but adequate distribution install a system.

The editor has investigated several types of irrigating outfits and a general average of all together can perhaps be described as follows: Water is brought to the edge of the field in 4-inch to 6-inch pipes. Distribution to the field is made through 2-inch or 3-inch pipes, with sprinklers spaced according to pressure to apply the water uniformly over the largest possible area. The pipes on the field are, of course, movable in sections, usually 20 to 30 feet long. Uprights with a V-shaped notch to hold the distributing pipes are located every 10 to 20 feet, after one strip is watered, the pipes are moved over to an adjoining strip.

If only one watering is employed for corn it should be made in the early tasseling stage. However, at least three or four applications are desirable for a total water placement of 5 to 8 inches for the season.

Home vegetable gardeners are orchardists may install more permanent systems and thereby reduce labor or moving pipes. But in every instance artificial irrigation is proving extremely profitable.

Water is pumped by electricity or by gasoline engine. Several farmers bought used pipe for their system. And because nothing complex is involved, most of them did all their own work of installation.

Where irrigation of this scope is employed on sloping land, rows must be formed on the contour to avoid erosion and less or escape of valuable water.

In several cases fruit was saved from late frosts by running the system on when low temperatures were expected. Here is a principle that may prove exceptionally profitable for small orchardists and growers of strawberries and bramble fruits.

Such row crops as sweet corn may be fed extra nitrogen in the irrigation water.

TO PREVENT ONION STORAGE ROT
Every winter numerous readers write the editor to obtain information on how to prevent storage rot of onions. The rate of such inquiries was unusually high last winter and spring. Of course, such requests for information indicate that gardeners and farmers are making mistakes somewhere along the line because onions are exceptionally hardy and should be stored over winter with no losses at all. What is the key to successful onion storage?

There are several important steps in harvest, drying and storage methods that are necessary to attain this end but by far the most essential occurs in late July and early August: several weeks before onions are ready to dig. Growers who know this simple but vital fact seldom lose any onions over winter.

Commercial onion growers refer to onions with "green" or unripened necks at harvest time as "chick-necks." If such bulbs are included in storage crates or bins they set up decay early and this spreads to otherwise sound onions nearby and thus heavy losses may result. Therefore, the grower's major cultural problem is to eliminate or curtail the number of "chick-necks." This is the July and early August task.

To mature normally and ripen so the neck is withered and dry, an onion must receive free sunlight and good circulation of air after the top begins to die back. Translated into terms of care this means that all grass and weeds must be kept removed from the patch. Such invading growths not only shade the ripening bulbs but interfere with normal maturing but they retain excessive moisture in or on the surface soil to delay maturity. Here in one sentence is the cause of "chick-necks." And of course, when onions are kept free from weeds and grass the problem of storage rot is almost completely eliminated.

An onion is ready to harvest and store when the neck is dry and withered. At this stage the bulbs will rattle when poured from one container to another. Both facts are tests by which to judge onion maturity.

A dry, sunny day should be chosen for digging. Onions should be thrown into a windrow, preferably on a raised bed, from three rows thrown together with their tops outward. They should be stirred once or twice after digging to expose them for uniform drying. Later in the day the tops should be clipped off with shears (not close) and the bulbs placed in slat crates in the garden. This last step eliminates an extra handling later with its dangers of bruising. All damaged bulbs, including random "chick-necks," should be kept aside for immediate use or for extra drying to store separately.

The slat crates should be stacked in an airy shed or well ventilated room so the air can move among and under them and thereby carry away released moisture. If such onions are thoroughly dried, they may later be stored even where freezing temperatures occur without damage. However, such well "cured" bulbs should be stored in an attic or other dry place until they are sold or used. Avoid "chick-necks" at harvest time to reduce storage rot over winter. Keep the onion patch free of weeds and grass to solve the "chick-neck" problem.

Love may make the world go round in the movies but in motoring it's the no-parking sign.

When Should It Ping
Sometimes what seem like silly questions are far more penetrating than appear on first thought. Well to the fore in this category is the query as to whether it is ever normal to hear a ping in a motor. One of my readers fears that any evidence of ping is a sign of trouble. He does not know that unless it is possible to get some ping from an engine, under test conditions, timing isn't normal.

With a fully advanced spark an engine should ping a little when accelerated sharply in the range from 15 to 30 miles per hour in high gear. The car should be on level ground at the time, and only normally loaded. There should be premium gas in the tank. This test can also be made with automatic transmissions and torque converters, except that the car should be accelerated a little faster in order to compensate for the slippage in the fluid couplings of such drivers.

Any additional pinging is a sign of abnormal conditions of the engine such as an accumulation of carbon, too high operating temperatures, wrong type spark plugs, ignition defects, uneven cooling of the head or block, incorrect gas mixture or dragging brakes.

Sensitive To Caster
In the old days when there were front axles and leaf front springs your mechanic could increase front-end caster by the simple process of inserting wedges between the axle and the springs. With the modern front end he has adjustments for caster and he also recognizes that the whole front end is more critical. He has also learned to consider the rear end of the car, too, because sagging here will adversely affect the front end. Steering is another clue. If the wheel tends to snap back to the straight-ahead position too abruptly after completing a turn, the indications are that caster is excessive.

Angles On Pressure
What to do when that little needle of the oil pressure gauge says that conditions are not normal poses quite a problem. Sometimes the gauge is merely warning that the oil level is low and that the remaining oil has thinned out. It may be warning that the engine is overheating. If pressure is suddenly high it is telling the driver that the lines have clogged. Fortunately our worries are usually on the low pressure side. Here we may find that the oil pump is worn and needs replacing. Or the spring of the pressure relief valve may be weak. On some cars there is an adjustment here; on others the spring has to be replaced.

Mechanic Joe Speaking
"Watching the front seat of a new car go up and forward reminds me to pass along the idea that one way to compensate for braking that is a little too effective is to adjust the seat further from the pedal. In this way you get less leverage on the pedal and you are less likely to apply more braking power than you need. It works the other way, too. So if the brakes do not seem to be quite up to par, and you are waiting for an opportunity to visit the repair shop, moving the seat further forward will help you get better results. A customer of mine wisely remembers to move the seat back when driving in the rain."

Sign Of Dragging
Where it is difficult shifting to low or reverse the indications are that there is some oil or grease on the clutch plate which causes it to drag after the flywheel even when it is disengaged. Usually in such a situation the car can be shifted into second and then back to low without difficulty, so remembering this indirect way of obtaining results should the clutch act this way. Also try burning the lubricant off the clutch plate at driving about 100 yards with the car in low and the brakes lightly applied. The effect of this is to slip the clutch a bit. But don't overdo it. You may warp the clutch by overheating it.

Ahead Of Their Time
Another of the early cars that had push button controls for gear shifting was the Premier for its 1917 model. I believe this had the same arrangement found on the S. G. V — a magnetic shift whereby the gears were automatically shifted by merely pressing on a series of buttons located in a control box on the steering column. This was quite different from the Owen-Magnetic in which "gearing" was accomplished by varying the current between two driving magnets similar to in result to the units of a fluid drive unit.

Pressures And Steering
Tire pressures receive a lot of attention but too often merely from the standpoint of riding comfort and tire wear. Steering is a third consideration, and an important one. Tires were run up to 45 pounds pressure for a test and it was quite difficult to keep the car to a straight course. On a rough road the car banged, and when brakes were applied there was considerable chattering. Parking, however, was greatly improved. While driving in the wind the car was hard to hold on the road, and when the rear end was loaded with luggage and passengers steering was unpleasantly erratic.

It will help keep front-end caster normal to increase rear tire pressures where a car is heavily loaded for a trip. It is best to start with the front tires under-inflated, however, because they will then pick up more pressure than is started out normally inflated.

For Your Safety
I don't know why it isn't considered more often, but there's real danger in not keeping your mind on the fellow who is trying to overtake you on the road or even in traffic. There is a natural inclination to accelerate when about to be overtaken, but this doesn't mean that you are always justified in helping the other fellow by slowing down. If he has overshot his mark and finds that he has to get back into line again your slowing down may be a serious handicap to him. Here you may find it necessary to speed up.

How Are The Lights?
Observing the headlight rays as they play upon the closed garage doors is an excellent way to get a line on how the lights are behaving. I am not things so much of evidence that they may be out of focus as the likelihood that they may not have equal intensity. A poor connection in the circuit will cause one of the lights to be yellowish. Most likely spot for this is, at the contact for the lamp bulb. If both lights seem below par, as compared with the results obtained from a friend's new car this should be a warning that there is something wrong with the entire lighting circuit. Check the headlight switch, ammeter, battery, ground strap, relay and the battery cable and the hot post of the starting-motor.

Haying Their Troubles
Q. I have been told that oil mileage will improve if I use an extra quart of oil in the engine all the time. J. L. M.

A. The theory is that a larger quantity of oil won't run so hot and thus won't thin out so readily but if you overfill the engine the oil may foam. Also the excess may over-lubricate the engine. The idea isn't a good one.

Q. Somewhere I read that a driver can tell if the clutch drags by watching the ammeter. I can't see any connection between and

ITALIAN CHIEF OF STATE MAY LOSE HIS OFFICE

ROME (AP) — Premier Alcide de Gasperi, Italian government chief for nearly eight years, Friday appeared on the verge of defeat in the forthcoming parliamentary vote of confidence.

The once-powerful coalition of center parties behind his pro-Western government is melting away. If deputies stick to their party's announced lines in the showdown in the lower chamber early next week, his eighth government will be thrown out before it gets started.

Small Party Bolts

The newest blow came early Friday from the small Republican party, which in the past had been an ally of De Gasperi's Christian Democratic party.

Republican leaders announced they had "invited" their five deputies to abstain from voting in the confidence ballot on the new Cabinet's policy.

Earlier the Democratic Socialist party, another member of De Gasperi's 4-party center bloc in the last elections, announced that its 19 deputies also would abstain.

Only the Liberal party still was to be heard from, and its 14 votes would not be enough to give De Gasperi a majority against the combined left and right opposition.

De Gasperi would be voted down 287-279, as party plans stand at present.

CONGRESSMEN FLAY PAY BILL AS "SNEAKY"

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-passed bill with a potential billion in pay raise for members of Congress was lambasted today by two House members as "sneaky, crooked," and "a backdoor approach."

It was apparent that the bill, passed late Thursday by the Senate with no opposition, debate or fanfare, would have tough sledding in the House.

Republican leader Halleck of Indiana told the House yesterday he hopes the Judiciary Committee will consider the bill next Tuesday and act on it.

"Should Have Courage," Rep. Burdick (R-ND), a member, said it would get out of that committee only over his opposition.

Burdick, who long has claimed that members of Congress are paid enough already, called the Senate proposal "a sneaky, crooked" way to get a pay raise without voting directly on the issue.

He told newsmen he doubted the bill would get serious consideration.

Supporting Burdick's stand, Rep. Gross (R-Iowa) called the bill "a backdoor approach," adding: "If we want to raise our salaries, we should have courage enough to stand up and vote directly on the issue."

IKE PUT ON SPOT BY THEATER TAX

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was put squarely on the spot today by congress' passage of a bill to repeal the 20 per cent tax on movie theater tickets.

If he signs the bill, the estimated net loss in federal revenue will be 100 million dollars a year and other industries may ask for similar tax relief.

If he vetoes it, he will be rejecting a bill which won support of top Republicans, such as acting Senate Leader Knowland of California and Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the conference of all GOP senators.

Knowland, like Vice President Nixon, hails from California, heart of the motion picture industry.

The House and Senate which acted yesterday, passed it by overwhelming voice votes. But neither took a roll call tally to show whether the necessary two-thirds to override a veto could be mustered.

Medicine "Tasters" Land In Hospital

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For some mothers it's a chore to get youngsters to take medicine. But not Mrs. Catherine Dush of nearby Mt. Ephraim, N. J.

Mrs. Dush called police yesterday when her sons Gordon, 9, and Robert, 5, complained of feeling ill. Investigation disclosed medicine bottles strewn around the bathroom. The boys said they had been "tasting" the contents.

They were treated by a physician and sent to West Jersey Hospital in Camden. They are out of danger.

Keep the onion patch free of weeds and grass to solve the "thick-neck" problem.

RUTABAGAS AND TURNIPS
Rutabagas and turnips are cool-weather vegetables. They fit profitably into late garden plans and may be grown on ground from which early potatoes, peas or other crops have been harvested. Experience proves that following early potatoes that have been heavily fertilized, both of these vegetables thrive without any additional fertilization. Too, potato land is ideally mellow for promoting rapid and normal growth.

Rutabagas require about a month longer to mature than turnips. This fact means that seed should be sown this week. Turnips reach edible size in 65 to 75 days for winter storage in approximately 80 days or perhaps a little longer.

Many home gardeners have never grown rutabagas. They have assumed erroneously that turnips will serve as a substitute and thereby they have missed one of the better late root crops. With their yellow flesh, rutabagas are richer in vitamins and minerals than the white-fleshed turnip. Too, they are extremely tasty, particularly after they have been buried several weeks or months in an outdoor pit or mound. Otherwise they are grown like turnips — seed broadcast or sown in narrow rows.

A gain, it is necessary to stress final seedling dates — July 1 for rutabagas, July 15 to 20 for turnips. In the case turnips are grown for their greens, seedling may be done as late as the middle of September.

With either vegetable a half ounce of seed will sow a 300-foot row or 300 square feet broadcast. Turnips may be thinned later and the tops eaten as greens. Shallow covering is necessary in both methods of seeding.

Last year the editor experimented with mulching rutabagas and turnips grown in narrow rows. It was observed that growth was more sustained during dry weather in July and August and the mulched plants not only reached maturity earlier, but the roots were larger and of better quality. And while this test was made under rather dry conditions where a mulch would serve most beneficially, it seems likely that gardeners may well practice mulching with at least a half of their plantings of both vegetables. Here is an excellent place to utilize immature weeds before they develop seed. The coating need not be as heavy as required for cucumbers, squashes and other summer mulched crops.

One of the outstanding merits of late rutabagas and turnips is the ease with which they can be stored for all winter use and sale without using valuable basement and cellar space. In fact both vegetables retain their maximum texture and quality in burial while shriveling and toughening occur when either is stored even in a cool cellar.

Burial is simple. Before freezing weather arrives the roots are harvested and the top cut back, not close but to remove most of the leaf stems. The roots are then piled in a conical heap or ridge on level ground, preferably with a layer of dry vegetation under them although such a provision is not necessary. They may be covered directly with soil or first covered with dry vegetation. The site should, of course, be well drained.

This was quite different from the Owen-Magnetic in which "gearing" was accomplished by varying the current between two driving magnets similar to in result to the units of a fluid drive unit.

Pressures And Steering
Tire pressures receive a lot of attention but too often merely from the standpoint of riding comfort and tire wear. Steering is a third consideration, and an important one. Tires were run up to 45 pounds pressure for a test and it was quite difficult to keep the car to a straight course. On a rough road the car banged, and when brakes were applied there was considerable chattering. Parking, however, was greatly improved. While driving in the wind the car was hard to hold on the road, and when the rear end was loaded with luggage and passengers steering was unpleasantly erratic.

It will help keep front-end caster normal to increase rear tire pressures where a car is heavily loaded for a trip. It is best not to start with the front tires under-inflated, however, because they then pick up more pressure than is started out normally inflated.

For Your Safety
I don't know why it isn't considered more often, but there's real danger in not keeping your mind on the fellow who is trying to overtake you on the road or even in traffic. There is a natural inclination to accelerate when about to be overtaken, but this doesn't mean that you are always justified in helping the other fellow by slowing down. If he has overshot his mark and finds that he has to get back into line again your slowing down may be a serious handicap to him. Here you may find it necessary to speed up.

How Are The Lights?
Observing the headlights rays as they play upon the closed garage doors is an excellent way to get a line on how the lights are behaving. I am not things so much of evidence that they may be out of focus as the likelihood that they may not have equal intensity. A poor connection in the circuit will cause one of the lights to be yellowish. Most likely spot for this is at the contact for the lamp bulb. If both lights seem below par, as compared with the results obtained from a friend's new car, this should be a warning that there is something wrong with the entire lighting circuit. Check the headlight switch, ammeter, battery, ground strap, relay and the battery cable and the hot post of the starting-motor.

Having Their Troubles
Q. I have been told that oil mileage will improve if I use an extra quart of oil in the engine all the time. J. L. M.

A. The theory is that a larger quantity of oil won't run so hot and thus won't thin out so readily but if you overfill the engine the oil may foam. Also the excess may over-lubricate the engine. The idea isn't a good one.

Q. Somewhere I read that a driver can tell if the clutch drags by watching the ammeter? I can't see any connection between and two. W. L. R.

A. When the clutch is disengaged the engine should immediately slow down to idling speed. If the clutch drags the engine will not slow down and the ammeter pointer will stay over on the "charge" side.

Q. There is a knocking sound in the steering gear of my car. It seems to be right under the steering wheel. T. T. McB.

A. You will probably find that the trouble is due to wear at the ends of the tie-rods or steering arm. The noise telegraphs up the steering column.

Q. I wish you would explain something that has puzzled me. It relates to trouble I was having in shifting gears. The clutch very definitely dragged, causing clashing of gears. Recently I changed the lubricant in the gearbox and now there is no clashing. Nothing was done to the clutch. B. N. G.

A. Either the old gear lube was too thin or there was too little of it. Anyhow the gears did not have the usual braking effect of the lubricant in which they run. This is important to smooth shifting.

Q. Aside from extra wear on the tires is there any penalty for sudden use of the brakes? H. J.

A. With hydraulics you are likely to jam the pistons of one of the brake cylinders. The situation is more likely to happen if you apply too much braking power when the car is running slowly.

Q. I have been advised to break the valve in the pressure cap on my car's radiator. They tell me that pressure is rough on the radiator. R. R. T.

A. Pressure naturally aggravates any tendency toward leakage but the advantages of the pressure cap are such that you should not toss them out of the window. Some hot summer day when the going is hard and the engine would otherwise boil off some of the coolant you will be glad to have the pressure cap to help keep things normal.

Q. There's a sudden drop in gas mileage and very poor operation. Have checked the usual things. K. F. McM.

A. How about the choke control? Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St. West Hartford 7, Conn. and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "My trouble is—I lose things," 22-year-old George Cheety tried to explain as he stood before Magistrate Elias Myers.

But the magistrate indicated Cheety's troubles were just beginning. He held him in $500 bail for the grand jury for driving while his license was suspended and ordered him to appear before Chief Magistrate James J. Clothier to explain 50 traffic violation notices, all missing.

"I lost them," said Cheety.

BRANDON, Miss. (AP) — There will be no Saturday night bathing in this little Central Mississippi town of 1,200. The town's water pump broke down.

Mayor Ralph Boyce said parts to repair the pump would be shipped in and repair work was to begin today. The pump is expected to be back in operation Sunday.

Most residents drove to nearby farms to fill tubs and jugs for drinking and dishwashing.

CHILD, LOST 2 DAYS IS FOUND NEAR HER HOME

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (P)—Mr. and Mrs. Casey Bowers never stopped praying that their five-year-old mute child, missing for two days, would be found alive and unharmed.

And last night their prayers were answered.

A group of "teen-agers, who were among hundreds searching for little Emma Bowers, came upon her sitting near the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks less than two miles from her home.

"A Wonder She's Alive"

The child walked away from her farm home, 50 miles southeast of Pittsburgh, Wednesday wearing only a pair of bloomers. When she was found she had lost the bloomers but a medical examination showed that she was not harmed except for scratches.

Her father, a lumber worker and farmer, said Emma tried to tell him she wanted some ice cream when she was safely in bed at the Connelville Hospital. "She'll get it as soon as the doctors say it is all right," the happy father said.

One of the searchers, PFC. Anthony Cywinski of the state police, said: "It's a wonder that she is alive. She was only two miles from home but how she got that far in these terrible forests I'll never know."
